NEW HAVEN, Conn., Nov. 23.—The alertness of Harvard in taking advantage of Yale's errors and field kicking by Brickley gave the crimson the victory over the blue today by a score of 20 to 0.

Two touchdowns, one by Storer and the other by Brickley, were scored in the first and third periods, principally due to muffed punts in the Yale backfield. Brickley kicked one goal from the field from the 35-yard line and another from the 19-yard line. Yale was never dangerous until the final period, when the blue's offense carried the ball 63 yards down the field to Harvard's 8-yard line. There it was lost on downs. A few minutes later Pumpelly was about to try to kick a field goal when the game ended.

RELY ON PLUNGES.

Harvard made comparatively few consistent marches into Yale's territory by the rushing game, and kicking was adopted as the best means of

Progressive Party Demands New Tally on Two Precincts in South

Wilson Continues to Gain Strength in Canvass by Secretary of State

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 23.—The bill in equity prepared by the Progressive party, demanding a recount of the Presidential vote in two precincts of Los Angeles county, was filed today in the Superior Court. These were the precincts covered by the writ of mandate issued to the Democrats two days ago. Arguments probably will be heard next Tuesday.

Assistant District Attorney Ford told Louis W. Meyers, the attorney for the Progressives, that he would have an answer on behalf of the supervisors ready by Tuesday morning. If the court concludes that in equity the Progressives are entitled to a recount of the ballots in the two debatable precincts the recount will be started Wednesday.

This recount would affect merely the two precincts in question and serve to correct the tally sheets. In the meantime the board of supervisors is going forward with the vote canvass in accordance with the mandate issued Thursday by the Court of Appeals, prescribing that the canvass should be made only with the tally sheets of the 727 city and county precincts.

Threatens to Blow Up Offices; Demands $7000

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 23.—Earl Tryon, a young man who said he had been a newspaper solicitor, was arrested today by the police and held for investigation after he had visited the offices of the Pacific Electric Railway and told Arthur J. W. McKinley, counsel for the company, that a dynamite bomb had been placed under the big station building ready to explode

Reports Year's Birth Rate In France Lower by 100,000

PARIS, Nov. 23.—The birth rate of France was lower by more than 100,000 in 1911 than in 1910. In the whole of France, against 87,524 in a decade ago. In 1907 and 1911, he said, the deaths actually exceeded the births. This was, he continued, a sad state of things and a danger to the country, placing France in a situation of inferiority in comparison with the other great nations.

To Be Well-Read, Be Sunday Tribune-Read

Well-read is TRIBUNE-READ. Reading the SUNDAY TRIBUNE regularly is an education. Therein are to be found a host of features that are not equaled in the west. The Knave, for instance, relates much of persons and events along lines that are mighty original and highly entertaining. Lillian Russell contributes an entire illustrated page of beauty talk. Suzette treats of Oakland society and sizes up the social situation with a degree of skill.

There are pages of cable news in THE SUNDAY TRIBUNE from the correspondents of the International News Service, that service also supplying this paper with telegraph news from the world over. Comics for the children, fashions for their mothers, sports for dad, real estate news for everybody and a score more of features are to be found in THE SUNDAY TRIBUNE. An expert corps of local reporters and editors look after Oakland and surrounding cities, towns and counties. Now do you wonder that THE SUNDAY TRIBUNE'S CIRCULATION IS GREATER THAN THAT OF ANY OTHER NEWSPAPER CIRCULATED IN ALAMEDA COUNTY?

McNamaras Referred To as 'Warriors Who Fought as Seemed Best'

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 23.—Attacks on District Attorney Charles W. Miller and on the government's prosecution of the "dynamite" conspiracy cases, as published in the Iron Workers' Union Magazine since the trial began were read by Miller before the jury today.

The magazine is the official organ of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers.

of which the most of the forty-five defendants, accused of complicity in the McNamara dynamite plots, are officials.

In one article as read to the jury the government's prosecution is referred to as follows:

"On the 6th of October these forty-five defendants walked into court and pleaded 'not guilty' to the charges of the 'steel trust.' Then began the farce of a trial, a trial in which money, prestige, power, was the prosecutor of want and obscurity, a trial in which the 'steel trust' masquerades as the government."

"In this still courtroom, awesome with polished marble and rich mahogany, oppressive with stilted formality, breathing with hidden hatreds, the voice of the district attorney thundered the mad indignation, the scorn of capital for labor."

"HIDEOUS MONSTERS."

"Listening to that icy voice sit the forty-five men, just like you and me, but hideous monsters of crime to the district attorney, whose white angel life shines out in radiant virtue against the sinister background of these conspirators."

Reference to the McNamara brothers.

$10,000 Worth of Jewels Stolen by Window Cleaner

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—It became known here today that Mrs. A. A. Low, sister-in-law of former Mayor Seth Low, was robbed Wednesday of $10,000 worth of jewels. The jewels, which have a sentimental value far beyond their intrinsic worth, were stolen from Mrs. Low's bedroom, presumably by a man employed to clean windows. Diamond rings, a gold watch, a ruby necklace and a diamond pendant were among the articles taken.

Falls Nine Stories and Lands on Sand Uninjured

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 23.—Nelson, a structural iron worker, employed on a building in course of construction, plunged nine stories through an elevator shaft last night and landed from a severe shaking up the only ironing and fell. He landed on a pile of sand.

Miss Taft First to Open Giant Gate at Gatun Lock

COLON, Panama, Nov. 23.—One of the giant gates of the Gatun lock in the Panama canal was tested for the first time yesterday when Miss Helen Taft put the electrical machinery in operation and swung the gate open. She was visiting the canal in company with Henry L. Sumner, secretary of war, and his party.

Bomb-Maker Takes Officers to Cache

Riedelbach Declares He Has Large Quantity of Dynamite Hidden.

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 23.—Carl Riedelbach, the dynamiter, who terrorized the city last Tuesday by threatening to destroy the central police station and all of its occupants, plotted officers to a place near Bloomington in San Bernardino county, where he declared he had cached a large quantity of the explosive.

The trip was taken in an automobile guarded by two officers with sawed-off shotguns. Riedelbach wore a double set of leg chains and was handcuffed on each side to an officer.

Many persons have made application to the police to be permitted to talk to Riedelbach, but have been refused. The prisoner, learning that many desired to talk with him, said: "Just tell them I am sane and can take care of myself. I want to die by my own hand when the right time comes."

New Ventilated Cars To Make Appearance

First of Kind Will Run on Telegraph Avenue Next Tuesday.

The first of the new P. A. Y. E. cars with ventilating decks will leave the car shed of the Oakland Traction Company next Tuesday morning and operate on the Telegraph avenue line. Fifty-nine more cars of the same type will follow at the rate of three a week as fast as they can be equipped by the company's mechanics. The equipment for regulating the opening and closing of the ventilating decks has not yet arrived from the east but is being sent by express and will arrive here in a few days. Meanwhile the first cars will be operated with the unregulated decks.

Upon complaint that the P. A. Y. E. cars were not properly ventilated the board of directors of the San Francisco-Oakland terminal railways company authorized the expenditure of $25,000 to equip the cars with ventilating decks. The alterations are expected to remove all cause for complaint.

Labor Referendum Election Defeated

Balkan Soldiers' Position on Right of Tchatalja Lines Is Threatened

LONDON, Nov. 23.—Europe's nerves were racked today as war clouds lowered over the continent. A stream of rumors, pointing to the apparent fact that both Russia and Austria are girding for a conflict which may involve more than half the civilized world, flowed from various sources, and as the Austrian government ordered a strict censorship on telegraphic communication, truth of the rumors could not be denied, though their confirmation was also unobtainable. Prague sent word that Germany had ordered out 130,000 army reservists, to be ready in case the empire is drawn into the great war that diplomats fear may grow out of the struggle in the Balkan peninsula.

The rumors accord badly with Premier Asquith's statement last night as to the prevailing harmony among the European powers. Official statements fail to dissipate the general anxiety as to the situation.

ORDERED TO JOIN COLORS.

PRAGUE, Bohemia, Nov. 23.—The reservists of five German army corps, numbering 450,000 men, have been ordered to rejoin their regiments, according to the Czech press.

CENSORSHIP ESTABLISHED.

LONDON, Nov. 23.—A news dispatch from Vienna says a censorship has been established on all telegraphic and telephonic communications from Austria-Hungary to foreign countries since early this morning.

Mother and Baby Die of Starvation

Proud Woman Who Refused Charity Found in Attitude of Prayer.

CHICAGO, Nov. 23.—In a little room in North Halsted street last night Mrs. Julia Miller and her six-months-old son were found dead by Mrs. Helen Weiss, a neighbor. Mrs. Miller held her baby in her arms and in her hand was clasped a rosary. Her attitude was that of prayer. Mrs. Weiss told the police that the woman and her babe died of starvation. "Her husband left them," said Mrs. Weiss. "She worked in a rag shop. She could not earn enough at that to provide for herself and the baby. I tried to give her money but she was too proud to accept it. I took food to her last night. That is how I found her dead. Every night she prayed like that, that her husband might return."

J. J. Richards Declares That Grill Room Is Among the Best.

Accompanied by John Jordan of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce,
J. J. Richards of the National Hotel
Owners Association of America, yesterday afternoon spent two hours in inspecting the new $2,000,000 Hotel Oakland, which is to open soon. He expressed great admiration for the main hall in which not only the care of the guests stopping at the hotel was planned for, but also for the creation of a business and social center. He was particularly interested in the arrangement for the dining room service and declared that the kitchen was one of the best planned
and laid out that he had ever seen.

His approval of the grill room was particularly marked and he highly commended the plan of the hotel
management in turning this grill room
into a rendezvous for the business men of the city during the noon hour.
He declared that this feature was worthy of being copied by many of the large hotels in other sections of the country as it gave the business men of the city an opportunity to meet business associates at lunch, uninterrupted, and secure accommodation that the finest of clubs could not offer.

Many consider this room the handsomest room of any in the hotel and from an artistic standpoint it leaves
nothing to be desired. The room itself is paneled from floor to ceiling in walnut with elaborate carvings,
and freize in natural wood colors and colored in dark red and blues. The ceiling panels are picked out in the same colors and the floor is of marble and mosaic. The furniture is of dark wood with brown leather covering.
The electric was struck by a
be relieved with two large tapestries representing the siege of Troy and which are exact copies of two similar specimens of tapestry in the Vatican.
The hangings for the room are
of figured velours in blues and browns, thus carrying out the general color scheme.

After theater parties will also find
the grill a delightful place for supper at this time as well as during the noon and dinner hours, music
will be furnished by the orchestra.

The 45 counties canvassed to date
netted the following totals:
Roosevelt, 152,444; Wilson, 174,979.
The counties remaining to be canvassed and their totals are announced by county clerk, but have not been filed by the secretary of state are:

The grand totals for the 58 counties
are:

Roosevelt, 293,394; Wilson, 282,374.
Roosevelt's lead, 22,020.

The unofficial returns from Los Angeles county are based on the vote
for Wheeler, second elector on the Roosevelt ticket. Wallace, who will be high man for his party in the state
at large, fell 174 behind in the vote,
and if the returns from counties remaining to be canvassed, including Griffin, the leading Democratic elector, will have a plurality over Walter, the leading Progressive elector, of 134 votes.

TWO TIED UP IN COURTS.

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 22.—With the exception of Los Angeles and Alameda counties—these are tied up by litigation—
every county state has sent in its election returns to the office of the secretary of state. Minor errors have been in the counties and the sheets have been sent back to the county clerks and the registrars of voters for correction.
Governor Johnson, who under the election laws of the state must certify to the election of the presidential electors
after the totals are turned over to him by the secretary of state, received an opinion
from Attorney General Webb today certifying that section 1213 of the political code which provides for certification not later than next Monday, November 25, is directory and not mandatory; that the governor is not obliged to make no certification until he has the completed returns reported to him by the secretary of state.

MAY DELAY REPORT.

The governor is not obliged to make these certifications to the thirteen highest presidential electors just before the meeting of the presidential electors, the second Monday in January.
The petition for a writ of mandamus,
which was to have been filed by the Progressive in Sacramento district court appeals, in the name of Frank R. Devlin, Roosevelt presidential elector, demanding a recount of the vote in two Sacramento precincts was not filed up to noon today.

It was announced that the attorneys will get busy on the petition as soon as they receive copies of the papers and the action
nied by the Democrats in Los Angeles.

Bar Assn. Honors
Oakland Lawyer

FRESNO, Nov. 22.—With the selection of San Diego as the next meeting place and the election of M. K. Harris of Pres-
no as its president the California Bar Association completed its business sessions this morning.

Other officers elected are vice-presidents, Robert M. Fitzgerald of Oakland, Alfred Hansen of San Diego and J. J.
Richards of the National Hotel Hotel Owners Association of America, president of the association, treasurer, H. C.
Wyckoff of Watsonville. All but Harris and Fitzgerald were on last year's board of officers. The new executive board is as follows: A. A. Harris, T. W.
Hobbs, H. C. Wyckoff, W. B. Cole-
meyer, A. F. Jones, Lynn Helm, W. J.
Hunsacker and O. K. Cushing. Although Santa Cruz and Santa Barbara had bids
in for the next annual session, San Diego
was selected by unanimous vote.

A resolution was passed recommending that the laws of the state be changed to equalize the rights of man and wife
in regard to community property.

A special meeting of the board of di-

association will be held in the association
rooms, Fourteenth and Castro streets, Monday afternoon, at 4 o'clock, to hear
the report of the executive secretary, Miss Ida Green, on the meeting of protective workers in Portland, Ore.

The board of directors is so interested in this work that they sent Miss Green to Portland to study what is being done
the way of protective work in this city.
This is the first opportunity the members of the association have had to hear the report.

was removed from his home at 1830

receiving hospital in an unconscious con-

the police, Deak had been drinking heavily recently and had attempted to end his

HOP, LITTLE FROG! DON'T LOOK ABOUT!

Tessier's Going to Get You if You Don't Watch-Out!

(By GERALD P. BEAUMONT.)

Hump yourself, little froggy! Scoot for your little green life, tuck your legs under you, and croak a warning to your brothers! Tessier is after you!
Who's Tessier? Georges Tessier!
Why, bless your little black eyes, Tessier, is commander-in-chief of the chefs of the hotel frog pond and rules
supreme of the only cellar frog pond
in the entire West. That's who Tessier is. Now draw 'round and listen!
Down 15 feet below the level of the sidewalk, in the basement of the greatest hotel in the West, there is a little concrete pond that soon will be filled with pure water. The cress and other herbs which little froggies like to have lying around.

There will be compartments in this big pond and in these three compartments there will frolic between five and six hundred frogs. Some will be California frogs, some French frogs,
and some will be fat-legged Minneapolis frogs.
Four thousand of the Minneapolis
variety have been ordered by telegraph

snouts and eyes above water. That's what they like to do, says Tessier.
So now, little froggy, beat for the distant swamps; leave the domains of Adolph Uhl and Baron Bartheau, and if you must hang around, don't croak
or you're done for.

Remember the shades of your ancestors, who perished in the old days when Georges Tessier shrugged his shoulders in the kitchen of the old Bohemian Club and later at the Palace. Remember them and beware of Tessier, the nemesis of fast frogs!

on the sea of Marmora, under fire
from the Turkish war vessels, according to a news agency dispatch from Constantinople. The right wing of the Bulgarian army in front of the Thracian lines is thus threatened.

The garrison made a desperate attempt to drive back the Turks, but after an hour's fighting were forced to retire.

RELATIONS BETTER.
BERLIN, Nov. 22.—The report that the Austro-Hungarian government had made representations to the Russian government is discredited here.
On the contrary the relations between Vienna and St. Petersburg are understood to have improved since Russia gave Serbia to understand that she cannot have Russian support in her demand for a port on the Adriatic sea.

The reported tension between Rou-mania and Austro-Hungary also is discredited by German officials.

In a semi-official statement today
the visit of Field Marshal Blasius Schemua, chief of staff of the Austro-Hungarian army, is declared to be merely one of customary exchanges
of courtesies between officials of Vienna and Berlin. Its concurrence with the visit of the Archduke Francis Ferdinand is said not to have been intentional. The field marshal has not been in conference with the Austro-Hungarian heir to the throne during his visit nor has he been received in audience by Emperor William.

NEW PEACE TERMS.
LONDON, Nov. 22.—Nothing has developed within the last twelve hours to show whether the Turks will find the proposed modifications in the terms offered by the allied Balkan nations sufficient to induce them to agree to an armistice, preparatory to a definite peace. The principal enemies now at their wits' end to behalf of the allies are reported to be carrying with them, fresh terms of peace in a form that may open the door, which still is regarded as standing ajar for their recognition.

The Ottoman government points out that it still has half a million soldiers to draw from the Balkans. The Bulgarians have none. The allied Balkan nations, however, retort that they are now in a position to use 150,000 troops who have heretofore been engaged elsewhere to swell the besieging force in front of the Turkish lines at Tchatchala. Should the war continue it is assumed in military circles that an attack will soon be opened on the forts
along the Dardanelles, whose fall
would permit the Greek fleet to bombard the Turkish capital.

GENERAL COMMITTEE SUICIDE.
BELGRADE, Nov. 22.—The body of General Fethi Pasha, who commanded the sixth Turkish army corps at Mon-astir, was found by the Servians
among the corpses on the battlefield.
It is considered probable that he committed suicide.

CONDITIONS BETTER.
CONSTANTINOPLE, Nov. 22.—The Turkish government reports a greatly decreased number of deaths from cholera during the last few days, but this is not widely credited among foreign residents of the capital. Some attempt is now being made to house
the soldiers suffering from the disease. Wooden huts are being erected at the San Stefano cholera camp, on the open plain, which a few days ago
was strewn with groups of dead and dying.

Sortie Is Failure.
SOFIA, Bulgaria, Nov. 22.—The besieged garrison of Adrianople, after a general sortie yesterday, according to dispatches received here. The Turkish troops, however, were thrown back into the fortress after a battle
which lasted throughout the morning.
They lost heavily.

INDEPENDENCE PROCLAIMED.

ence of Albania has been proclaimed

leader of the Albanians, according to a report published in the Allgemain

BOOSTER, WHY DO YOU BELIEVE IN OAKLAND?

Model Profession of Faith Wanted; What Is Your Creed?

The first steps to secure a "Profession of Faith" for the Oakland booster, that will contain an epitome of "Why Oakland" were taken last night at a meeting of the Progress and Prosperity committee in the Chamber of Commerce.
Bernard P. Miller submitted a tentative draft of the new "creed" and this was greeted with an outburst of enthusiasm.
It was decided that the committee should call for similar contributions from all those who care to submit them, and from those submitted one will be adopted for circulation everywhere. The creed must be brief, to the point and arranged as follows
by Bernard Miller.

THE OAKLAND CREED.
I believe in the great destiny of My City Oakland.
I believe that my city will be the greatest and noblest on the Pacific coast.
I believe in the Imperial position and natural beauty predestine it as the City Beautiful.
My city has the most equable climate
on earth, and is hence the most comfortable Abode.
My city has unbounded opportunities for illustrious future, its waterfront and harbor can accommodate the shipping and do as the commerce of the world.
Its front on the ocean, its background of rolling hills, its climate, its lake, its beaches, make it the Ideal City.

AUTOIST'S ARM BROKEN BY AUTO'S KICK-BACK

While drinking an automobile, last night, at Du Franca of 411 Moss avenue was the victim of a serious mishap when his right forearm was shattered in the place by a kick-back from the crank.
Both bones above the wrist were broken,
and the wrist was fractured near the base. The victim was treated at the receiving hospital by Doctors Levin and Bernard P. Miller, who administered an anesthetic while the surgeons were operating upon the wound.

offense against an uncertain blue back field. Right half muffs showed the wisdom of this line of attack.
Harvard had no call to uncover any intricate plays and relied almost entirely on line plunges by Wendell and Brickley.

The Yale offense did not show strong until the last few minutes of play, when Harvard's first string of players were supplanted by substitutes.

The score made by the crimson today was the largest made in a Harvard-Yale game since 1907, and the touchdowns were the first (either the crimson or blue has scored against each other in five years).

As Harvard has vanquished all-others, the crimson players were handed champions when they left the field.

IDEAL WEATHER.

The weather for the game was cool,
dry and bright, with light wind blowing. Conditions were ideal for the staging of the biggest football battle of the year.

All the hotels in town were crowded to capacity last night. More than 1000 persons who could not obtain accommodations in the hotels spent the night in sleeping cars in the railroad yards.

Harvard continued the favorite in the early betting, with plenty of Yale money in sight. The odds of 10 to 7 or 2 to 1 prevailed early today.

IN GOOD CONDITION.

The coaches reported that the players were in splendid condition. Members of the Yale team breakfasted shortly after 8 o'clock and then went on a walk into the country.

The Harvard players were about the hotels at New London about the same time, and by 9 o'clock preparations were completed for the 50-mile trip by special train to this city.

The turf on the gridiron was dry and firm, with a sufficient amount of spring to it to give the players
plenty of chances for quick starts.

The crowd was early on the scene and at 1:30 half the stands were filled. The cheering sections of the two colleges were directly opposite
each other, armed with blue and red megaphones. The Harvard section was equipped with red flags to be used when the crimson kicked.

The Yale cheering section had a number of new songs, but the leaders relied mainly on "For God, for Country, and for Yale" sung to the tune of the German national hymn.

Both teams were early on the field.
Yale coming on at 1:40 p. m. and Harvard a few minutes later. Harvard cheered Captain Wendell of the crimson team and Captain Spaulding of the blue. This courtesy was returned by the Yale side, with cheers
for Captain Spaulding and Captain Wendell. Then the two leaders shook hands while Referee Langford tossed
the coin.

CAPT. BISHOP OUSTED FROM U. S. SERVICE

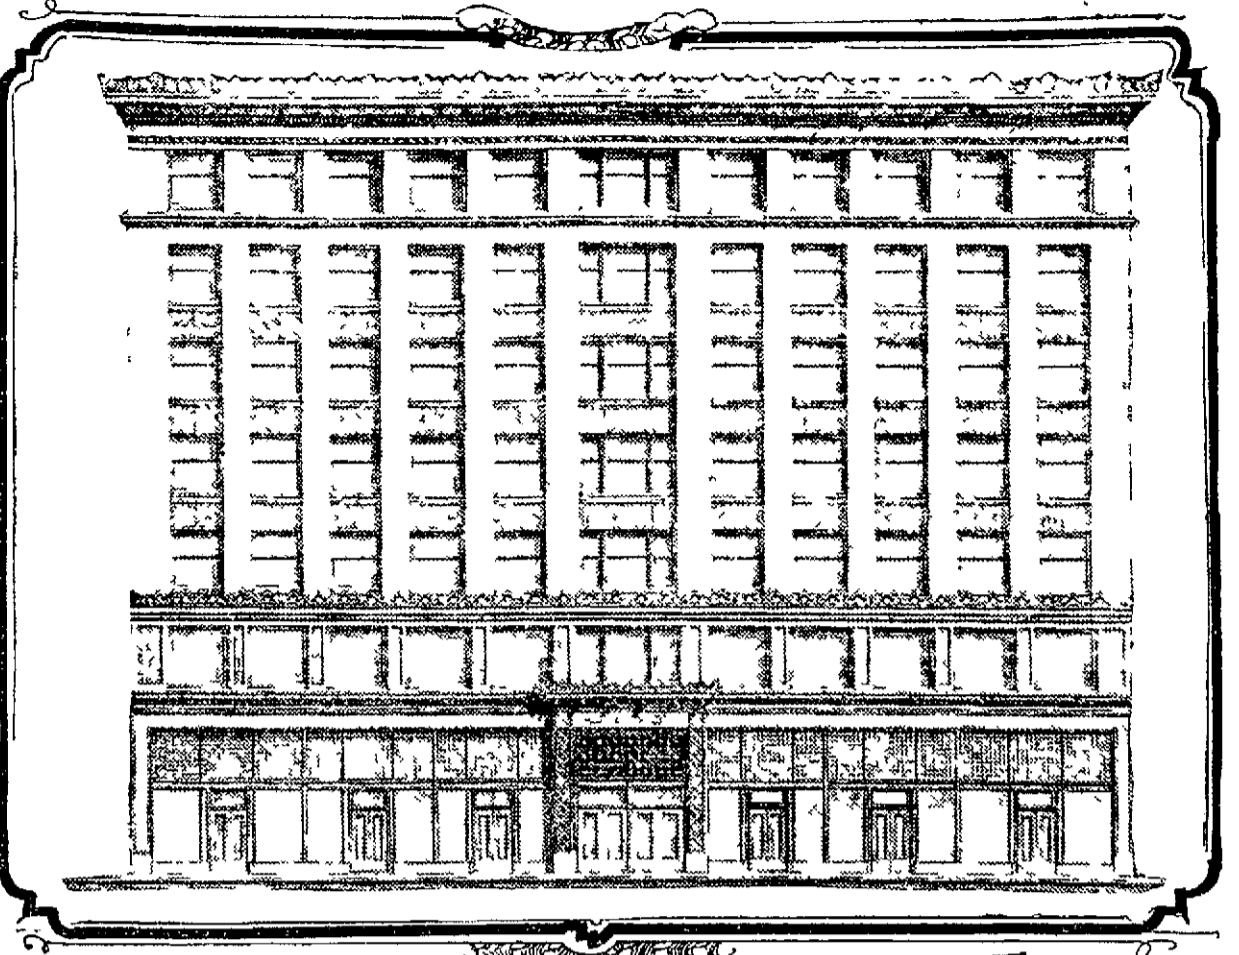

SAN FRANCISCO Nov. 23.—Found guilty of desertion and conduct prejudicial to the discipline, Captain Augustus H. Bishop, formerly of the First Infantry, U. S. A., was notified today that his connection with the service had ceased. The sentence of the court martial held last July became effective immediately on receipt of telegraphic confirmation from the President.

Captain Bishop disappeared last March from his post at Vancouver Barracks, Washington. Two months later he gave himself up to the chief of staff of the Western Division.

CONCRETE BUILDING FOR RETAIL DISTRICT TO COST $250,000 DALZIEL OFFICE STRUCTURE TO BE CITY HALL SECTION ORNAMENT

PERSPECTIVE OF SEVEN-STORY CONCRETE DALZIEL OFFICE BUILDING TO BE ERRECTED ON FIFTEENTH STREET OPPOSITE THE NEW CITY HALL AT COST OF $250,000. —Milvain Bros. Architects

Excavation Begun and Work Is to Be Rushed; Will Contain Large Number of Professional Men's Offices

The $250,000 Dalziel building on the north side of Dalziel street opposite the new city hall will have when completed, the greatest number of offices of any similar structure.

Following the reproduction in THE TRIBUNE Thursday of a drawing of the sixteen-story Oliver building at Fourteenth and Webster street which will reverse the importance of the business district east of Broadway and near the new Hotel Oakland a perspective is today published of the Dalziel seven-story office building which will add materially to the solidity of modern construction around the new city hall. It will be located in the heart of the new retail district and near the extension of Washington street from Fourteenth street to San Pablo avenue. On the corner of Fifteenth street and the Washington extension the United Cigar Stores Company, which has obtained at a record price, a lease from the Dunn estate will erect a thirteen-story office building.

The plans for the Dalziel building upon which the A. W. Kirkland Company has obtained a long-term lease are being drawn by Milvain Brothers architects, who have had the building in charge since the first sketches were made and are now bringing the plans and specifications to completion.

The contract for the excavations has been let and the site already about half excavated. It will be only a matter of a few weeks until the foundations are started.

The building will have a frontage on Fifteenth street of 120 feet and will be 103 feet deep. The structure is planned for seven stories but there is a movement on foot to carry it up another story.

The cost of the structure alone is approximately figured at a quarter of a million of dollars.

The completion of the building in as short a period of time as possible has been thoroughly studied and the owners have decided on a complete reinforced concrete building making the building absolutely fireproof and eliminating all the unusual delay in obtaining the steel.

The exterior is to have the lower story of granite, the upper part of the building will be of a warm colored brick relieved with a terra cotta and bells or ornamented terra cotta. All windows are on a tall, large, making the offices as light as possible.

CAFE IN BASEMENT.
In the basement will be located a cafe with a wide marble entrance from Fifteenth street. Three elevators will run from the main lobby to the cafe.

The first floor will be taken up with wide stores, extending the full depth of the building and lighted with sky lights in the rear. The stores will all have mezzanine stories.

A majority of the offices will be fully equipped with all the latest plumbing and electrical appliances for the use of doctors and dentists.

The entrance lobby will be finished in marble, the elevators and elevator enclosures will be in bronze and all to be lighted with an elaborate system of indirect lighting.

The building is to be one of the most complete and up to date office structures on the coast.

DENUNCIATION OF MILLER IS READ

Editorial Attack Heard by the Jury in Indianapolis Case.

ers' plea of guilty at Los Angeles, as read in evidence from the magazine, was

The pleas of 'guilty' quickly followed the arrest. In the hands of an all-powerful enemy, with courts and juries committed against them, with traitors as friends and friends as traitors, a trial was impossible. The two McNamara stood bravely before the world and said: "Yes, we are guilty, we fought as seemed to us best. We fought force with force, power with power. Maybe we used the wrong weapon. History will tell. But we heard the cry, the anguishing cry of men and of women groaning in the steel yards, above the voice of caution. We stand ready to take the consequences of our acts without a whimper, without an appeal for sympathy."

"Silently they entered the grim penitentiary misunderstood by their fellows, executed by the public."

"TWO NOT ENOUGH."

"But two victims were not enough for the steel lords. The organization itself must be disrupted. Coated on with a degenerate, they stretched further cruel hands for more distinguished victims."

"Give us Combers," they cried. "Give us Darrow."

"Armies of detectives in the pay of the Erectors Association rushed up to the witness chair to testify against the workers. The question of open and closed shop is often on the lips of the vaunting district attorney, whose drum-like tones seem to say, as if it were the accompaniment of witnesses: 'Lo, I am the kingdom and the power and the glory forever and ever Amen.'"

"To him the trial is a brilliant matinee in which he is the glittering star. The reserved seats are filled with admiring friends who smile loudly and point and stare at the defendants through the darkened lens of misrepresentation with a near-sightedness of vision that does not see the cruel jails and penitentiaries which loom spectre-like in the vague background."

CHARGE IS ATTACKED.

The government attorney's charge, that Herbert H. Hocking, secretary of the union, "double-crossed" the union by giving information to the government, was attacked in an extract read to the jury.

The article quoted by Miller was signed by Miss Mary Field of New York, a writer for labor union publications. From "a circular letter" published in the magazine and signed by President Hocking, it again said the executive board was read to the jury this extract:

So far all the proof we have for the allegations is the mere word of Mr. Miller who is bitterly prosecuting this case for the government and who has already gone to every extreme measure in order that he may succeed in proving the government's—or rather the Erectors Association's—allegation that all of these defendants are guilty of the crimes charged against them.

PASTOR CRITICISES CHIEF OF POLICE

Petersen Would Keep Social Evil Where It Can Be Regulated.

At the end of the meeting in Chabot hall yesterday afternoon of the Oakland center of the California League, Chief of Police Petersen was criticized by Rev. Frank L. Goodspeed for his expressions on "necessary evils."

"It can do no good to enforce the present law and close the houses of the red-light districts," was the statement of Chief Petersen which was criticized by the clergyman. "It is better to keep the disease where it can be regulated than to scatter the same."

"Early in the eighteenth century they tried to stamp out the social evil in England by much the same order of the commission as exists in Oakland today. Statistics show that there is at present a greater percentage of immorality in Vienna than in any other city of the world."

BLAMES CIVILIZATION.
"The present condition is a product of civilization, and will exist as long as the present status of human or animal nature, remains unchanged. The great hope is the education of our boys and girls in the schools along lines that will enable them to resist the disease."

Dr. Minora Kibbe, who introduced the chief, stated that while she believed in the sincerity of his convictions yet had doubts as to the logic upon which the convictions were based. She admitted that the committee had still a great deal of ground to cover, but believed that the findings would be of worth in the solution of the problem.

"It is essentially a woman's problem," said Dr. Kibbe. "Man can be blamed for the present condition, but the remedy will be found by woman."

Dr. Susan Weston, who is a member of the public welfare commission and a member of the committee which has been conducting the investigations, gave a brief report of the recent protective congress work at Portland.

HELPLESS MAN IS HERO OF BLAZE

Millionaire Merchant Saves Lives and Valuable Art Collection.

NEW YORK Nov. 23.—Although 74 years of age and too feeble to walk, Cortlandt Field, a millionaire commission merchant and art collector, was the hero of an early morning fire which threatened to destroy his five-story residence on Twenty-sixth street early today.

Just before 1 o'clock Field awoke to find his room filled with smoke. Although unable to get out of bed on account of his age and an injury to his ankle, he reached for a telephone at his bedside and notified police headquarters of the fire. Then he phoned on the frame of his bed. He aroused his wife in an adjoining room and the ten servants on the floor above.

Two of the servants carried him in an arm chair to the ground floor, where he coolly organized his escape.

played into a fire-fighting force, directing them in moving his $500,000 art collection. The firemen arrived in time to confine the blaze to the floor where it started.

The chief damage was to the private chapel which adjoined the Field's sleeping room and which contained a priceless collection of Bibles and prayer books in many languages.

ALLEGED KISS INVOLVES MRS. WALL AND LAWYER Charges of Contemplated Bribery Also Made Against Cochrane

Allegations that are alleged to be true. James W. Cochrane and Mrs. Ruth Wall, wife for whom he secured a divorce from her husband, Edward Wall, a capitalist, last May, and charges of contemplated bribery of a superior judge were exposed yesterday afternoon when Attorney J. L. May, representing Wall, went before Superior Judge Harris seeking a modification of the divorce which would give his client custody of his two minor children. An affidavit made by Mrs. Mary F. Wilson, a sister of Mrs. Wall, was to the effect that Attorney Cochrane had obtained $100 from her under the representation that he would prevent any publicity of the divorce proceedings and that she further stated he could "fix" things with the judge before whom the proceedings would be heard, naming Judge Harris. When stories of the alleged statements of Attorney Cochrane reached the ears of Judge Harris, the latter determined that the matter should be heard in open court although Edward Wall had signified his intention of dropping his attempt to obtain custody of his children. OTHER JURISTS CALLED IN. As a result, before the hearing had closed, Judge Superior Judges Waser and Wells were asked to sit en banc with Judge Harris. Witnesses testified as to the relations between Mrs. Wall and Attorney Cochrane. John Austin, a real estate man, said that he had seen Cochrane kiss Mrs. Wall in her home at 1511 Central avenue, Alameda, where she has lived with her sister, Mrs. Wilson, since last May. After a hearing of the case which lasted from 7 o'clock until 3 in the afternoon, the three judges decided to continue it until next Friday morning when further sensational testimony will probably be introduced by Wall.

GUN-PLAY ALLEGED. That on one occasion recently Mrs. Cochrane shot Mrs. L. Emery in San Francisco three years ago for her alleged relations with Attorney Cochrane, followed by the late and the Wall home in Alameda, accompanied by her daughter, Miss Evelyn Cochrane, and then accused him on a letter that returning home, is part of the evidence in the hands of Attorney J. L. May. At that time it is said that Wall drew a revolver on his wife. Intimation was made yesterday that there had been a transfer of land to Mrs. Wall, very much to the surprise of D. H. Hoache, a nurse in her employ at the time of the shooting. The proceedings of yesterday afternoon did not get into court, as the judge said that she had signed another deed, which is supposed to have been a pre-arrangement of the property to Mrs. May. Miss Emery was the nurse who attended Mrs. Cochrane at the time she was shot by Mrs. Cochrane, according to those interested in the case. Cochrane on the stand denied the insinuations made that he had behaved improperly with Mrs. Wall, declaring that he had not met her and that Austin was deceived in regard to his statement to that effect. OBTAINS PROPERTY. Mrs. Wall said as a result of her divorce she obtained property valued at $25,000 from her husband Wall was to pay her $100 per month alimony and to clothe the children. They were placed in a convent at San Rafael where Wall says there is two months' board still owing which his wife failed to pay. Through the residence for Cochrane when he failed to aid Mrs. Wilson in obtaining a settlement of property interests with her estate, according to his testimony on the stand. He said that he had been approached by Mrs. Wilson in that respect and his failure to aid her led to her attack upon him through the attorney. Mrs. Wilson told how she had pawned a turquoise and diamond ring in order to obtain $100 a month of $100 that she later said was given Attorney Cochrane to keep the divorce out of the newspapers. Later she said that her sister's case answered to her, and she said that she again approached the attorney receiving the assurance that as he knew the judge well, he could get anything he wanted from him. It was then that the alleged matter of the $250 bribe came up, she said. Charges that drinking and dancing had been going on in Mrs. Wall's home and that money had been spent there which should have gone toward paying for her children's board, were made by Wall. John Austin testified that he had witnessed drinking in the home at a time when he was the guest of Mrs. Wilson, who is a widow. "Cochrane kissed Mrs. Wall good night when he left," said Austin. WILL BE OPEN CASE. "Inasmuch as the proceedings tended to reflect upon this court," said Judge Harris, "I determined to have the matter brought to light. "Neither are there any influences bearing from the outside that can affect procedure here. One attorney has no advantage over another and all litigation is open. "Edward Wall is a brother to Carlton and Richard Wall and is interested in the Techna in San Francisco and the Carlton hotel in Berkeley, besides being manager of the large Wall estate. His two daughters, Dorothy, age 18 years, and Ruth Wall, age 10 years, are the objects of his seeking a modification of the divorce decree which gave them into the custody of their mother. During the proceedings yesterday Mrs. Cochrane was in court taking in the testimony but she was not placed on the stand. Wall will probably continue in his effort to be appointed legal guardian of the children when the case comes up next Friday.

COUPLE IN COURT. Both Attorney Cochrane and his wife had been subpoenaed to be present in court during the proceedings. Cochrane stipulated that his wife would testify as to her following him to the Wall home on one occasion if she should take the stand and her testimony was not taken. Following the hearing both Mrs. Cochrane and Mrs. Wall held a long conversation in the corridors of the courthouse. It is understood that Mrs. Cochrane is in possession of the revolver with which her husband is said to have threatened her. "I am about," after arriving home, she obtained it from his drawer, according to the information in the hands of Attorney J. L. May. During the hearing when Miss Roache testified, she said that of the two deeds she had signed, one of them had been executed in blank with the name of the assignee left vacant. No further testimony was offered at the time in that particular. "HALF BREED SCOUT" IS SUBJECT OF FILM. "The Half-Breed Scout," a 191 Bison production of the historical days of California, will be seen at the Camera theater tomorrow. The scene of this stirring picture is laid in Bliss, Okla., on the ranch of Miller Buss, and Indian, cowboy, Mexican and soldier actors were seen here in Oakland with the "101 Wild West show." This photoplay is shown in two reels, 2500 feet long, and is full of the life of the early days of California. Many exciting battles are fought between the cowboys and soldiers against the Indians. Several other new photoplays will be shown at the Camera tomorrow, and there will be special music on the new photoplays orchestra to accompany the bill.

GOOSE FLIES 750 MILES IN EIGHT HOURS. CHICO, Nov. 23.—If the goose killed by George Peters of the Paradise section actually made the time the note attached to one of its feet indicates, it beat all previous records and established the record for a bird flying from Dutch county and British Columbia. A small piece of paper wrapped beneath a piece of old cloth on the leg of the gray goose killed by Peters near his home, bore the date Okanagan, B. C., November 21, 9 a. m. The bird was killed at 5:30. The date would indicate that the goose made the trip of 750 miles in eight and a half hours. The initials "S. C. D." were attached to the slip. The goose was in a band of perhaps fifty.

PAPER GOES ON ROCKS. MARYSVILLE, Nov. 23.—The Spokesman, a morning newspaper established by Major J. F. Carrere several months ago, suspended publication last evening. The direct cause of the suspension was the filing of two attachments against the plant. An assignment was made last night to T. J. Fogarty for the benefit of the creditors. TWO ARMY OFFICERS DISMISSED. WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—The President has approved the sentence of court-martials discharging from the army Captain A. H. Bishop, First Infantry, and Second Lieutenant Armine W. Smith, Third Field Artillery. Captain Bishop was convicted of false entries and embezzlement and Lieutenant Smith of "defect in the solution of a military problem."

it's the little things that count

There's no detail of the improvements in Pleasant Valley Court left to bother the man who buys

The same careful consideration which for years has distinguished the marketing of Syndicate residential subdivision was employed in providing for the many constructive features that enter into the development of this cozy little home place. You will find in Pleasant Valley Court a bungalow park embodying every attraction required for the perfect home. There are five spacious bungalows now building which have won praise from some of the best contractors in Oakland. One of them asked us the other day, "Why do you build them so well and sell them so cheap? I wouldn't." But we've put the material and workmanship into these houses because we attend to the details. —and we make the price right and the terms easy because we want them to sell quickly. We might have put up a cheap house that would look well and last a few years and we might offer to sell them on easy terms —but the Syndicate way of doing business guarantees the purchaser better than that. We put up a good house on a big lot and give the man who wants a chance to save his rent money, the opportunity to buy RIGHT. In dealing with The Realty Syndicate you can't go wrong. The best lots are unusually wide, insuring sunlight practically all day long. They are ready to build on tomorrow if you wish, for we have provided for water, gas, electricity and sewer connections. Sidewalks and street work are completed and add greatly to the distinctive character of the property.

We know it will appeal to you as the best buy for the money in Oakland and want you to see it without delay. The truth of every statement we've been publishing from day to day can be amply and speedily verified. The completeness of Pleasant Valley Court is worth dwelling on after the months we've spent in developing the tract. About one-third of the property is priced at $17.50 per foot or $700 for a 40-foot lot—and the rest varies, with a maximum of $30 per foot for the most desirable residence frontage. We don't care where you go—

Any Oakland property at $17.50 per foot with all improvements in is a mighty good buy.

And when you can get it three blocks from the Key Route, on a car line and ten minutes from the business-center of Oakland, you've done even a little better.

We claim that Pleasant Valley Court, three blocks north of the Piedmont or Fortieth Street Key Route terminal, and traversed by the Piedmont Avenue cars, is beyond question the logical point for home building or investment.

We know you'll think so too when you see it.

Do it now—phone us for an auto, and let us start you on the same road thousands of satisfied Syndicate clients are traveling today.

REMEMBER! We have a lot for any need, prices for every pocket and terms for every income.

DON'T FORGET! Ten minutes to town—half hour to San Francisco—clean, speedy, dependable service.

ACCUSED SLAYER FREED BY JURY George B. Carri Wins Freedom at Woodland on First Ballot. WOODLAND, November 23.—On the first ballot, George B. Carri, charged with murdering Charles Dodge at Davis in February, 1911, was acquitted here last evening. Carri was publicly tried in July, but the jury failed to agree. In less than an hour last night the verdict was brought into court. Carri is the son of the late Senator R. S. Carri of Sacramento and a nephew of ex-Attorney-General James D. Phelan of San Francisco. He married Miss Ida Dixon of Dixon. Dodge, the man killed by Carri, was at one time a boarder in the Carri home and was treated like a member of the family. After a quarrel, Dodge left the household and took up his abode elsewhere. Rumors came to Carri that Dodge was talking about Mrs. Carri. According to the testimony of both husband and wife, Carri went to her and demanded an explanation. On a promise that he would make no trouble, Mrs. Carri admitted that Dodge had tried to induce her to leave her home. Mrs. Carri insisted on going to Dodge and demanding an apology. After Mrs. Carri left her home and had gone but a short distance, her husband overtook her. Together they went to the Hunt hotel in rear of Dodge. While standing at the door of the Hunt hotel, Mrs. Carri observed Dodge approaching. She stepped out and attempted to stop him, demanding to know why he had been slandering her. Dodge put his hands on her and attempted to shove her to one side. In the struggle, both fell. While they were down, Carri began to shoot. Dodge was fatally wounded with the first shot, but Carri continued to shoot until his revolver was empty. The theory of the prosecuting attorney was that Dodge had secured some damaging evidence against the Carri in relation to the signing of some deeds, transferring property from the late J. W. Wood, father of Mrs. Carri, to her and her daughter. The prosecution held that the motive for the killing was to put Dodge out of the way so he could not testify against the Carri.

STEALS PURSE WHILE OWNER WAS FISHING SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 23.—Mrs. Mary Cox, of 2134 Mission street, was fishing on Land's End this morning when she was robbed of her purse. A man took her purse containing $46, ran up the bluff and escaped.

BURGULAR ALARM FAILS. CHICAGO, Nov. 23.—As a result of the failure of an aluminum trip burglar alarm to work, burglars succeeded in looting a jewelry store for the fifth time in a year. The robbers carried away $2500 in diamonds and jewelry. The alarm was supposed to be set by Mrs. J. H. Smith, who was sleeping in the store at the time. The robbers entered the store through a back door, and the alarm failed to sound. The store was closed for several days.

MASTER MASONS OF COUNTY MEET Members of Blue Lodges Make Merry at Cathedral Fiesta. One of the largest gatherings of Master Masons that has been called in Alameda county answered the invitation of the four lodges of Scottish Rite Masons at the Cathedral last night. It was the first time the Blue lodges have gathered at this place, and the occasion was auspicious, being a reception brilliant for its hospitality and manifestation of fraternalism. An invocation by the Rev. R. Franklin Hart, vicar of the Chapel of the Good Samaritan, was followed by an address of welcome on behalf of the officers of the Oakland bodies, by Frank D. Moyer, and on behalf of the members of lodges by O. Riehl, who was also chairman of the entertainment committee. There were several responses by masters and past masters of the order. An interesting musical program was opened with an organ solo by Mrs. Estelle Drummond Swift, followed by a violin quartet, Mrs. Lewis Kiefer, Miss Gertrude Postel, Kenneth Fox and Charles Blank. Howard Eugene Pratt rendered a tenor solo, and others taking part were Leon Chamberlain, cellist; Nelson Weiburn, Shakespearean reader, and a violin, cello and organ trio. DIALECT STORIES. During the banquet the program continued. The German dialect stories of Milton Stewart were a feature. R. Robertson gave a "Little Bit of Scotland." "Some Old Songs" were sung by J. S. Mills, barytone, with a violin obligato, arranged by H. C. Laanen, accompanist. The Royal Hawaiian Club gave Hawaiian airs, and a parting song, "Auld Lang Syne," was sung by the gathering. O. Riehl was chairman of the committee of arrangements, assisted by G. A. Bahler, M. S. Stewart, R. J. Carpenter and A. H. Ziegler. On the program was printed stanzas from "The Mother Lodge," by Rudyard Kipling, as a propheet of the occasion.

PRaises CALIFORNIA OLIVE. PORTERVILLE, Nov. 23.—P. J. Vutch, an Austrian olive grower, has been taken for a tour of the olive district. After an inspection of the groves which are just coming into bearing he states that this section accomplishes here in seven years what requires from 12 to 14 years in the Adriatic olive growing district. That the Central California foothills will become one of the big olive districts of the world and that it will be a most profitable industry, was the statement of Vutch, who says that the olive products of California are superior to those allowed to leave Europe.

WOULD KEEP UP FLYING SQUADRON Col. J. K. Ritter Suggests Making Military Organization Permanent. Colonel J. K. Ritter's suggestion for a permanent flying squadron to represent Oakland in all parades and state celebrations was outlined last night before a big meeting of the Progress and Prosperity committee. The executive committee was empowered to lay the matter before the other semi-official organizations of the city and invite their co-operation in the formation of such a body. It is intended that the new body shall be dignified, representative, and trained sufficiently to enable the Oaklanders to make a military appearance whenever desirable. The famous "Cleveland Greys" will be the inspiration of the new organization.

KILLS HIS WIFE TO END AGONY

Frenchman Fires Three Shots
When Spouse Pleads for Death.

PARIS, Nov. 23.—B. Beguery, a septuagenarian and former procureur de la Republique at Arles, whose wife had suffered from the agonies of an incurable malady, yesterday yielded to her oft-repeated requests and killed her with three revolver shots. The couple were very much attached, but her sufferings made the wife twice attempt to commit suicide.

Beguery surrendered to the police after he had ended his wife's sufferings. A sister of the wife arrived at the station house shortly after and exclaimed: "Beguery, you are a saint. I know what you suffered for years and what you endured."

Alfred G. Promises
TO STAY IN AMERICA

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt is not going to shake the dust of America from his shoes and make his future abode in England. Stories from Newport said he was, but Vanderbilt says no. "It is rather amusing to hear such reports," he said. "I am coming back here in August. We are going to England on our usual trip, and will leave on the 17th of next month. I am not going to close Oakland farm."

"We have made our arrangements to leave here so as to be with the bird on Christmas. Of course, I shall coach as usual in the months of May and June, and that will get us back here nicely by August. While away there will be no sense in having the farm running as it is now. I will discharge a number of servants who would be useless while we are away. I am going to give a sale, too, of young horses. You know I have a lot of horses there—too many."

PREMIER ASQUITH SCOUTS WAR TALK

British Leader Declares That Blood Should Not Be Shed.

NOTTINGHAM, Eng., Nov. 23.—The unusual spectacle of Liberal and Nationalist leaders on the same platform at a political meeting was witnessed last night when Premier Asquith and John Redmond addressed a great audience on home rule. The Premier also dealt with the war in the Balkans and other questions of the day.

Fears of a suffragette outbreak resulted in the most complete preparations ever taken in Nottingham to preserve peace. Almost the entire police force was on duty in the hall and its neighborhood and a large body of officers was held in reserve in the basement of the building.

Asquith's reference to the war was diplomatic and threw no new light on the situation.

Recalling his London speech on November 2, in which he said that he believed it to be the "unanimous opinion of Europe that the victors are not to be robbed of the victories that cost them so much," the Premier said:

"I endeavored to define in precise and clear terms the attitude of this country and the great powers with reference to the war which is raging in eastern Europe. That attitude has not, as far as I know, been in any way changed or modified."

"We are anxious to stop further effusion of blood between the combatants and even more anxious to limit or circumscribe the field of possible conflict. The powers are working together to that end."

"We are satisfied there is no deviation in wish or purpose in that co-operative policy of all the powers. There may be certain questions which, in the heat of the moment, may be ultimate, but it may be possible to be reserved, to deal with when the time comes for a general and definite settlement."

Pledging the Liberal party to continue its efforts for home rule, Asquith asserted he would not be discouraged by any passing incidents, but was determined to proceed with the fight to the end.

APPROVES MEDAL FOR
TITANIC HERO ROSTRON

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—President Taft has approved the choice of the Fine Arts Commission for the design of a gold medal to be presented to Captain A. H. Roston of the Cunard liner Carpathia for his heroic services in saving the survivors of the Titanic disaster.

The accepted design was the work of John Flanagan of New York City and was one of more than a score submitted to the Commission. It bears on one side a bas-relief head of Captain Roston, encircled by the words: "To Arthur Henry Roston. The Thanks of Congress for Heroically Saving 714 Passengers of the Titanic in Mid-Atlantic."

On the reverse appears a bas-relief scene showing two male figures in a lifeboat casting a line to a man just about to sink beneath the sea. On this side also appears the date of the rescue, April 15, 1912.

PORTERVILLE, Nov. 23.—Scores of residents of the valley towns are receiving letters which indicate that the old "Spanish prisoner" game is still being worked and that the game is profitable in spite of its perennial exposure by the newspapers. Even Chief of Police Isham has been favored with a letter in which it was stated that the Spanish-American is still in the Madrid jail, with $200,000 hidden in America, which he is willing to share with anyone who will get him out.

FEDERATION PLANS TO AID ACCUSED

Will Go to Defense at Indianapolis; Oakland Council's Plea Denied.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Nov. 23.—The convention of the American Federation of Labor yesterday recommended that delegates to the convention on returning to their homes use their efforts to ward off local unions to contribute funds for the defense of the men on trial at Indianapolis, charged with the dynamite blowing up of the Hotel Madison.

The Indianapolis affair developed a division of opinion as to the advisability of taking sides in the matter, but a large majority was in favor of standing by the men until they had been proved guilty after a fair trial.

Paul Schuerbaum, of the San Francisco Labor Council, in a speech advocating that something be done for the men, said that any man who refused to go on record as willing to stand behind the men on trial was a coward.

The charter of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Ironworkers and the appeal of the Alameda County Central Labor Council of Oakland, Cal., for return of its charter, which was taken from it because it refused to revoke charters given by it to the seceding branch of Electrical Workers, was denied.

PROMINENT AMERICANS RETURN ON BIG LINER

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—The Mauretania, fleetest of all ocean greyhounds, reached port yesterday from Liverpool, her cabins occupied by prominent Americans returning for Thanksgiving. Two members of the American diplomatic corps arrived by the Mauretania—Myron T. Herrick, ambassador to France, and William Phillips, who for the last three years has been first secretary of the embassy in London. Mr. Phillips, who was accompanied by Mrs. Phillips and daughter, has received a year's leave of absence to take up special work at Harvard.

Mr. and Mrs. William Randolph Hearst, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel D. Sloan, Sir Hugh and Lady Graham, Miss Alice Graham, Somerset Maugham, the playwright; Mrs. F. W. Whitridge, Mrs. J. Z. Letter, Mrs. Graeme Stewart, Sir William Young and the Marquis and Marquise de Pinar del Rio were also passengers.

$1 DAILY NOT ENOUGH FOR 13

Supported 12 All Right, But Sister-in-Law's Visit Was Too Much.

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 23.—Supporting thirteen people on a wage of $1 a week is an impossibility, according to J. D. Hampton, a ranch hand, who is in the county jail today on a charge of having failed to provide for his minor children. Hampton is the father of eleven children, one of whom is dead. He cannot remember the names of all his offspring without great thought, but he says he loves children and has done the best he could to raise his so they would be healthy and strong. He said the real cause of his trouble was that his wife and her ten children were living happily, he declared, when Mrs. Hampton invited her sister to visit them. The sister accepted and remained a year, Hampton asserted.

"It was the last straw," said Hampton. "But even after that I tried to do the best I could, but my wife would not let me."

Mrs. Hampton finally obtained a divorce and the court ordered the husband to pay her $2 a month for the support of the five youngest children. He failed to do this and his arrest followed.

CONVICTED MURDERER CAPTURED IN NORTH

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 23.—Two men who will probably figure prominently in the criminal courts of California in a few weeks are held in the county jail following their arrival here in custody of Detective Sergeant McPhee, Burk and Laplane of the San Francisco Police Department.

The men are John Black, aged 40, painter, and P. L. Campbell, aged 20, a waiter. Black is wanted on a charge of murder, while Campbell is said to have been mixed up in a stabbing affray. Campbell was arrested at Vancouver, B. C., after a hunt of thirty-two days in the north to locate the man. Black was caught at Lethbridge, Canada, by McPhee and Burk.

Black was convicted of murder at San Francisco and sentenced to the penitentiary for twelve years just before the war. He gave notice of appeal, but while he was confined he seized an opportunity to escape.

MRS. LENA WAKEFIELD WEDS FORMER LOVER

SAN DIEGO, Nov. 23.—News of the marriage of Mrs. Lena Sefton Wakefield to Captain Henry B. Clark, U. S. A., at Jacksonville, Fla., November 20, received yesterday, was a big surprise to friends and relatives of the bride.

Two years ago Mrs. Wakefield was divorced from P. W. Wakefield of San Francisco. Outlets of the two Wakefield children were given to each wife and husband for interval periods of six months.

The marriage of Mrs. Wakefield to Captain Clark, it is stated, is the culmination of a romance which began prior to her marriage to Wakefield. Captain Clark was then stationed at San Francisco. He is now stationed at Fort Moultrie, S. C. A few weeks ago Mrs. Wakefield left ostensibly for a tour of the South.

WOULD KEEP OUT DANGEROUS PEST

Federal Board Seeks to Tighten Lines on Mediterranean Fly.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—Officials of the Federal Horticultural Board, in charge of the enforcement of the Simmons plant quarantine law, which bars the Mediterranean fly and other fruit pests from importation into this country, are preparing amendments to the law making it more stringent, which will be presented at the next session of Congress.

Under the present law the Department of Agriculture inspectors are not allowed to make inspections and stop infested shipments. They merely report to the various states that the shipments are infected, and the state quarantine inspectors are supposed to see that nursery stock without a clean bill of health is held up at ports of entry.

Some states have a poor inspection service and the board has received reports recently that infected nursery stock has been getting into New England ports. The board will recommend to Congress that nursery stock be admitted to this country at only five ports—San Francisco, Seattle, New Orleans, New York and Baltimore. An appropriation will be asked to maintain a sufficient staff of inspectors at each of these ports.

The board so far has not received any complaints of the Mediterranean fly getting into Pacific coast states from Hawaii.

The Failure of the Turk.

It is a well-known fact that the Turks have always been in the minority in European Turkey, but it is not so well known that they are no less in the minority in Asiatic Turkey. Originally the Osmanli were a small tribe, but by their daring and courage they first made themselves masters of Asia Minor and then the Balkan peninsula in Europe. The great armies with which they invaded Europe were made up in the main of people they had reduced to subjection. Today the annals of Turkey are largely composed of Asiatics in no way related to the Turks—Mohammedans different in race and type from their masters. Thirty years ago James Bryce said of the Turks in Asia Minor: "They are still in fact a hostile army encamped among unarmed subjects who detest them and are kept in check partly by the want of arms and courage, and partly by their own intestine jealousies."

Being a purely military oligarchy, the Ottomans have continued to maintain their supremacy by force. The spirit of their government, like the religion upon which all their laws and institutions are based, is unprogressive and utterly opposed to change. It has continually held civilization in check, frustrated mental, moral and material development with a resolute determination to rule as their fathers did. It was not in the order of things that such a system should survive. Having lost potency, it was inevitable that the military caste could not permanently stay the march of progress. Mr. Bryce described the government of Turkey as anarchy, plus the tax-gatherer.

In form the Turkish government is a corrupt and predatory oligarchy. The revenue system is the same as that of the Caliphs of Bagdad, and the method of collection equally as primitive. The government is a systematic robber; and the robbery it practices is of the kind that stifles trade and industry and renders insecure life and property. It is administered by a bureaucracy and the bowstring.

The harem filled with odalisques and eunuchs is its highest social expression, while the Mosque and the Koran are the apotheoses of its spiritual life. The Turks are neither merchants, bankers nor manufacturers; they are soldiers, conquerors, masters. Trade and industry are left to the peoples they hold in subjection. In European Turkey it is unlawful for a Christian to own land. The tiller of the soil is usually a Christian tenant; the lord of the manor is a Turk who does nothing but squeeze his tenants. The governmental rapacity of which the beg is the victim he practices with compound interest on the farmer. The officers of the military and civil service are with rare exceptions Turks, so there is no chance of justice for the Christian. He is a dog, a slave, an unbeliever from the Turkish point of view, and wholly unworthy of consideration. Every judicial officer must be a Mohammedan, and the law he administers is the Koran tempered by simony, bribery and freakish tyranny. When a village is in arrears with its quota of taxes all the adult male inhabitants are bastinadoed till the default is made good; the innocent are punished with the guilty.

Such a whimsical, disorderly, oppressive system is a bar to advancement of any kind. The Turkish government has been dying for years because it is unfit to live. It degraded the people and impoverished the land. The Turk reduced himself to impotency by reducing his vassals to beggary. In his squalor and filth he is fighting in the last ditch to perpetuate a system that is at once an anachronism and a stench in the nostrils of the civilized world. Asia Minor needs to be freed from him as well as Europe.

The white man's hope now appears to be to get Jack Johnson in jail. No sooner does he get free on one charge than he is arrested on another. It will be strange if they don't make something stick.

The death of Senator Rayner of Maryland will be a severe loss to the Democrats, not merely because he will be temporarily succeeded by a Republican, but because of his ability, force of character and moral independence. One of the most gifted orators in the Senate, Mr. Rayner was an intelligent student of the affairs of the government and ardently devoted to the public interests. His intellectuality and scholarship gave his party a dignity that it needed. With more warmth of temperament and wider sympathy with the masses, he was the mental equal of Lodge of Massachusetts. His independence was sometimes exasperating to his party associates, but his party profited by it. He would have been an ideal spokesman for President Wilson on the floor of the Senate. Inclined to be speculative, his philosophy was at once sane and progressive. He was an honor to his party and his State.

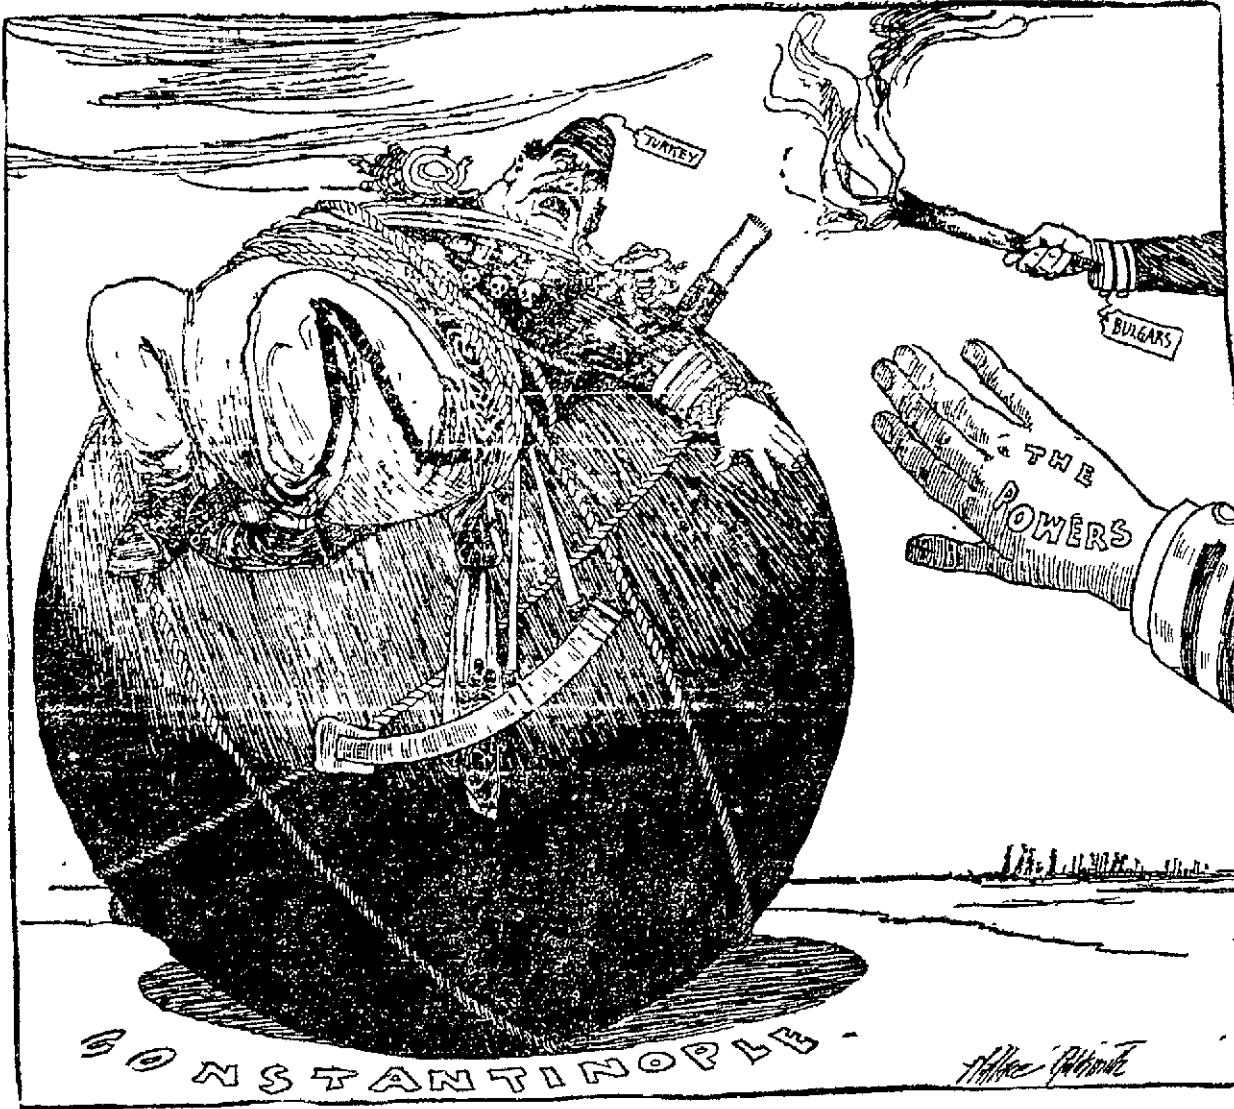

Do a man a favor and he is apt to imbibe the notion that he is entitled to another one. Gratitude for the favor granted is smothered by resentment over the favor refused.

What to buy for holiday presents is a question that recurs about this time every year. Here is a suggestion that should be an appealing one: If you have friends in the east that you wish to remember during the holiday season, send them a box of raisins or figs or a basket of glace fruit put up in California. Such gifts will always be grateful and attractive, and it will advertise California's climate, resources and industries. Gifts of this kind are not expensive, and they have local color, are expressive of the land from which they came. All who receive them will call in their friends to see what has been sent them from California. The object lesson will be impressive. Try it.

Prompted by the numerous mistakes (all looking one way) made in the recent election count, the Sacramento Union suggests that Los Angeles is in need of an adding machine. As we understand it, the fault was not in the adding, but the stuffing. The Los Angeles stuffing machine does not operate in accordance with the ordinary rules of arithmetic. It is operated mainly to prevent the wicked from winning.

There is one automobile to every twenty-seven people in California, but it by no means follows that one person in every twenty-seven owns an automobile. Some men own three or four and a great many motor cars are owned by taxicab and trucking companies. However, the automobile is in more general use in California than any country in the world. This indicates a higher percentage of average wealth, a higher scale of comfort, and perhaps a more progressive spirit. We've got the money and the taste to have the automobile.

NOW WHAT?

—THE BOSTON GLOBE.

Development in the Mountain Counties.

There is a vein of justice in the complaint of the mountain counties in which large forest reserves are situated that the conditions produced by forest conservation and the tax laws are hindering their development and imposing a hardship on their inhabitants.

In the first place, the forest reserves remove from exploitation large areas of territory susceptible of development one way or another. In the next, the streams having their source in the forest reserves are utilized for the generation of power for use in far-distant cities in such a way as to prevent the water being diverted in the mountain region for irrigation purposes. The water is diverted at a high elevation and carried in flumes and canals to lower altitudes and dropped to a level below the plateaus adapted to agriculture.

Hence large areas which could be reduced to profitable tillage can only be used for pasturage. The water generated in the high mountains cannot be used to fructify the soil along the stream beds because the right of diversion has been acquired by the power companies and is employed in such manner as to leave the regions traversed by the streams without irrigation facilities.

Stagnation in the foothill plateaus is the result. Extensive areas adapted to the production of fruits and cultivated crops are given over to grazing, and the towns languish; agriculture is backward and the mountain country remains unsettled.

The law taxing the gross earnings of corporations forbids the counties in which they are situated to tax power plants and water rights, so the obstacle to their development takes from the mountain counties a considerable revenue they formerly enjoyed. The proportion of the corporation tax apportioned to them does not begin to compensate for the loss sustained. The forest reserves are non-usable and non-taxable.

In consequence the outlook in several of the mountain counties blessed with abundant natural resources is gloomy. The natural resources are utilized to their disadvantage rather than their advantage. Distant cities get cheap lights and power from their rivers, but they cannot get water for irrigation.

Some remedy should be found for this unfortunate condition. The State tax law should be amended to permit of a more equitable apportionment of the corporation tax. As it now stands some counties, usually the poorer ones, suffer from a method of apportionment that discriminates in favor of the larger and wealthier counties.

BRITISH NAVAL SITUATION

The British service paper, the Broad Arrow, discussing the naval situation of that country, says:

During the past month there have been two notable incidents in Parliament. Mr. Churchill's explanation of the supplementary naval estimates and Mr. Asquith's explanation of the work of the imperial defense committee. The amount provided for the needs of the navy was so inadequate that even Mr. Churchill was unable to persuade the critics that the government was providing for the situation, which is allowed to be dangerous. Less than a million to spend this year in addition to the sum already voted could not possibly provide for the acceleration of the work already in hand, besides providing for more men and extra battleships. Mr. Asquith's explanation of the situation of the defense committee was purely advisory. We should like to know in this instance whether the cabinet is following the advice of the professional members of the defense committee. We venture to say that the steps proposed by the government to meet the danger in the near future are a compromise, and that they cannot have the support of the sea lords of the admiralty or the professional members of the defense committee.

After the strong words previously expressed by Mr. Churchill and even by Lloyd George we were grievously disappointed when we looked for deeds to back them up. We expected at least two dreadnoughts to be added to this year's program in fulfillment of Mr. Churchill's promise, besides acceleration of the work in hand and an increase of the personnel. A few weeks ago, when the fleets were reorganized, it was said that the account of the new German navy act largely increasing the striking force which Germany will have immediately available at all seasons of the year in the North sea, it was necessary for us to concentrate our whole force of battleships in home waters except a small squadron of old ships at Gibraltar, which was supposed to operate in the Mediterranean or the North sea as occasion might require. Now Mr. Churchill proposes to form a squadron for Malta composed of four of our most powerful battle-cruisers and four large armored cruisers of the

DYSPEPSIA

One of the most common ailments of the human system is dyspepsia, or indigestion. It is caused by a weakness of the stomach, and is characterized by a feeling of fullness, bloating, and a burning pain in the upper part of the abdomen. It is often accompanied by heartburn, and is a common cause of general debility. The most effective remedy for dyspepsia is Radway's Pills, which act directly on the stomach, and restore it to its normal condition. They are sold by all druggists, and are a household necessity for all who suffer from indigestion.

HOW FIREFLY GETS FLASH

Dr. S. O. Mast, associate professor of biology in Johns Hopkins University, who is not only one of the world's best biologists, but also a great psychologist, with regard to the behavior of the lower animals such as cockroaches, lightning bugs and other familiar insects, has announced some rather curious discoveries that concern the common lightning bug. Where there is smoke there must be fire, so there must be a cause for the flash of light which the insect produces. Even strong light is produced by many natural objects without the accompaniment of either heat or smoke. You can, as a rule, expect not merely heat and smoke but even burning where there is light. Yet there are many cases of light, wholly lacking in these qualities. To distinguish such light from the common varieties the words phosphorescence and luminescence have been adopted.

Dr. Mast took up the study of the behavior of lightning bugs in the neighborhood of Smithsburg, Western Maryland, early in June, 1911. At that time the insects were very abundant, dozens of them could be seen flitting about over the lawn and garden every evening.

Fireflies are found in dark crevices or underground during the day. In the evening when it is still light enough to read they come out. The females climb to the tips of grass stalks or on other objects and remain quiet. The males fly about and glow at intervals of about five seconds. The females do not glow.

The flash of light which the insect produces is not a continuous glow, but a series of flashes. The flash is produced by a chemical reaction which takes place in the body of the insect. The flash is produced by a chemical reaction which takes place in the body of the insect. The flash is produced by a chemical reaction which takes place in the body of the insect.

AMERICA'S POPULATION

The population of the United States (exclusive of Alaska, Hawaii, Porto Rico and other non-contiguous possessions), comprised in 1910, according to the last federal census, 47,332,271 males and 44,039,989 females, or 106 males to every 100 females. In 1900 there were 104.4 males to every 100 females. These figures are contained in a statement issued by Director Durand of the Bureau of the Census.

The excess of males in the United States is mainly due to the extensive immigration, a much larger proportion of the immigrants being males than females. In the foreign-born white population there are 129.2 males to 100 females. But the native white population also has a slight excess of males, the ratio being 102.7 to 100.

In the negro population males are outnumbered by females in a ratio of 98.9 to 100. Among the Chinese in this country males outnumber females by more than 14 to 1, and among the Japanese by about 7 to 1. The Indians show a small excess of males—105.5 to 100 females.

The preponderance of males in the aggregate population of the United States is most marked in the Pacific and mountain divisions (far western states), with ratios in 1910 of respectively 129.5 and 127.9 males to 100 females. The proportion of males is lowest in New England. There are only five states in which females outnumber males—Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Maryland, North Carolina and South Carolina.

Of the aggregate urban population of continental United States in 1910 21,498,181 were male and 21,127,292 female, the number of males per 100 females being 109.9. In the rural population of each division the males outnumber the females, but in the urban population of three divisions—the New England, South Atlantic and East South Central—the females outnumber the males.

GERMANY IS PROSPEROUS

For purposes of comparison one may note that our own later National budgets are roughly $1,000,000,000. The British budget for 1911 was $908,420,000. After the French war, speculation on a large scale ensued in Germany. The payment of the $1,000,000 indemnity had a bad effect. As has often happened in such cases, money, or the mere means of exchange, was taken for wealth. The earth will be as cold as the moon before men learn that the only real wealth is health. Many schemes and companies were floated and after 1873 there was a prolonged financial crisis in Germany.

It is said that bankruptcy and the liquidation of bubble companies entailed a loss of a round $90,000,000. It was in 1876-77, when Germany was thus suffering, that the policy of protection was mooted and finally put into operation by Bismarck in 1879. Ten years later the laws for accident, old age, and sickness insurance were passed, at the instigation and under the direct influence of the present Emperor.

The tonnage of steam vessels under German flag in 1880 was 1,428,025,000; in 1890, 1,875,050,000, and in 1905 it was $3,324,018,000. In 1910, $4,019,072,000. The German production of coal and other products in 1910 was the highest in its history, amounting to 285,148,322 metric tons. It would be easy enough to chronicle the commercial and industrial strides of Germany during the last quarter of a century by the compilation of a catalogue of figures.—Scribner.

JAMES ROLPH III HAS EYE ON SANTA CLAUS

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 23.—James Rolph III, the 10-year-old son of the mayor, has been astonishing the members of his household since his parents' departure for Washington by what has seemed a phenomenal attention and devotion to his studies. However early the hour at which his elders may arise, young James is always found at work. Yesterday an explanation was demanded, and the answer was frankly given.

"Christmas is coming—and there's the most wonderful train of cars advertised! The whole thing goes by gasoline—it looks like the Geary-street road—and I want it!"

Nobody doubts that James III will get it. Incidentally young James, who is at times thoughtful beyond his years, lately electrified his father's secretary, Edward Rainey, by gravely assuring him that he would be glad, during his father's absence, to lend any assistance possible in the office work.

THOUSANDS AT DOLL PARTY

Some of the Tots Who Enjoyed Capwell's Garden Party Yesterday

KIDDIES AND DOLLIES GUESTS OF CAPWELL'S Santa Claus Gives Away Books and Luncheon Is Served

Most all the little girls in Oakland and most all the dollies attended the roof garden party at H. C. Capwell's big store yesterday afternoon and slipped chocolate and at cookies and candy to their hearts' content. A more ideal day for a dolly's coming out party could not be imagined. The tiny mothers in their Sunday best, some in starched frocks and sashes, others in fur coats, muffs and tip-pets, clutched their babies—also in Sunday best—tightly to them and waited with hearts palpitating with the joy of expectation for the "party" to begin.

Little tots and grown ups by the thousands crowded the cars from 1 o'clock until late afternoon Capwell's bent, and once they arrived they were treated to one of the finest times they ever had or probably ever will know.

Lunch was served in the tea room of the roof garden, which, with its beautiful decorations of autumn leaves and white and purple grapes, all brilliantly lighted and airy, was a fitting setting for the happy faced youngsters who waited eagerly for the goodies to be passed around. In the center of the room was the prettiest little Christmas tree, all trimmed in shiny ornaments and incandescent lights, and by the door, hanging out picture books to each little girl who passed, was—who do you suppose? Why, jolly old Santa Claus himself, in the handsomest new suit, bought specially for the dolly's garden party and Christmas eve, enjoying the whole affair as much as any little girl present and making the dollies and even their dignified little mothers laugh at his lively sallies and jokes. Oh! he was the jolliest old Santa that ever was and before any little girl left the party he made sure that she and her dolly had lunched and then he gave her the prettiest little story book entitled "Joyland."

BOYS SLIP IN.

You see, just little girls are mentioned because this was just a little girls' party. The boys weren't expected to come to this one. There's going to be something later on for boys, so Mr. Capwell says, so don't you be jealous, Johnnie. But one or two boys got in somehow and they didn't even have dollies with them, either.

"On, look! There's a boy," said one little mother on seeing the forbidden guest at her table. "This isn't any boys' party, you know," she said to that young gentleman. "How did you get in?"

"Well, you see," said little Jack, straightening himself proudly, "my dad's a policeman and they just had to let me in."

So Jackie stayed and little Jane hospitably passed her cup of chocolate to him and handed him the cakes while she herself waited for the pretty waitress to bring her some more.

Such well behaved little girls as these, too, and with what dignity and primness they seated themselves at the tables to be served just exactly like the grownups.

DOLLY HAS TO MIND.

"No, dolly, you can't sit there," said one little tot to her baby, who seemed bent on occupying a chair all by herself. "Don't you see all the other mammas are holding their babies, and I must hold you." So dolly had to mind.

Then, when the chocolate and cakes were finished, came the bags of candy, and such a nice big bag of candy as it was, each tot from the eyes sparkled and the smiles played hide and seek under the rosy cheeks at the tables to be served just exactly like the grownups.

Then Santa interrupted by reminding them that still another happiness awaited them.

"You'd better come on now and get your story books," he called to them. "Just see all those other kiddies out there waiting for some of these good things."

And sure enough a stream of tots were already crawling under the ropes stretched across the entranceway to prevent the crowd from all coming in at once. Oh! such a long time as dolly had to mind.

BOOKS FOR ALL.

Piles and piles of story books were carried over to the table by Santa Claus and his helpers, and quickly they went.

"Bring some more of my story books over here," called Santa every little while, and they kept coming. Oh! it was all so beautiful and fine and lovely. There was joyous laughter and gleeful little shouts on all sides, interrupted now and then by a sob or two, when some little tot couldn't find mamma right away. It did seem as though it would be impossible to pick out one's own mamma from all that crowd of people thronging every entrance and exit. But Mr. Capwell and his able corps of assistants managed splendidly in bringing each anxious-faced kiddie to her equally perturbed mamma.

"I never knew there were so many youngsters in the world, let alone in Oakland," said Mr. Capwell during the afternoon, a pleased smile on his genial face. "I'm enjoying it as much as they are. They have been pouring in like this ever since before 2 o'clock, and what will it be when school lets out? For most of the older youngsters, up to 16 years old anyway, are bound to come, and we can't blame them."

BIG STORE CROWDED.

Sure enough, about half past three that roof garden was literally covered with dollies and little mothers and their mothers. Even daddy came to see all the fun and help keep his family from being separated. All the elevators and every stairway were packed, and many had to forego the party altogether because of the vast crowd.

Everybody was asking everybody else where was everybody going, and Capwell's roof garden soon became the Mecca for many others who had not previously known of the wonderful party. If they were fortunate enough to get in, which is doubtful, they would have witnessed one of the prettiest sights seen in Oakland for years—a massing of happy youngsters, laughing and chattering, and enjoying to the utmost the cordial, hospitality of one of the most popular and enterprising department store proprietors and citizens on the coast.

Yes, that roof garden party was a great, a wonderful success, and one long to be remembered by every little girl who was there. It is doubtful if anything else will be talked about from now until Christmas, for you see it was a reception, not alone for the tiny tots, but for their dollies as well, and when mother can rest having her baby treated so royally? "Yes, indeed," Mr. Capwell's an awful nice man to give Mary Anneline and me such a good time, and mother's going to take us there next week to see all the tops. Can't you go, too?"

ANNUAL AFFAIR.

And the best part of the whole affair is that it is going to happen every year.

Mr. H. Mansfield, advertising manager for Capwell's, "that Mr. Capwell decided to make that roof garden party an annual event. None of us can remember when we enjoyed anything quite so much, and Mr. Capwell, in particular, says he wouldn't have missed it for worlds. But we can't take all the credit for its success, for if it hadn't been for your beautiful Oakland climate many of the youngsters might not have been able to attend; but the day was beautiful and the entire affair was a greater success than any of us could possibly have anticipated."

The Broadway's new show for Sunday is one of the best balanced that has been programmed at the popular priced house for many weeks. The advance notices give every act the credit of being at the top. Gertrude Falls, who performs on a trapeze, is a very clever woman, with a very pleasing appearance. She wears pretty gowns.

Daphne, who will be here for three days only, is a welcome number on any program. His wonderful manipulation of a large piano accordion is a treat to lovers of music. The Fall City Quartette, boys that sing and Hyde and Ryan, the Scotchman and the Lady, will furnish the comedy end of the bill. The usual program of pictures will hold the boards for the first three days of the week.

The Meddler

THE dances scheduled for this season are mostly large ones to be held at the Hotel Oakland, prominent among them the Friday Night dances and the large ball for which invitations will be sent out in the near future. Among the leaders in the latter project are Mrs. Edson Adams, Mrs. Williamson and Mrs. Charles E. Percolls. But very few dances in our leading homes are on the social calendars of the season.

The successful hostesses this winter are making a social record by way of the most charming dinners, for dinner giving is beginning to be an American characteristic. Dinners were formerly arranged along very crude lines, and dinner giving as a fine art was not part of our social regime.

Today it is different, and it is remarked of Americans that their dinners are very like those of the French—and the French people give the most charming dinners in the world. A dinner depends upon the menu, of course, but it also depends on the art of conversation. And it may be said first of all that the French are good listeners; being silent is sometimes conversation with them. A very clever writer has just published a whole book on this art of conversation, and we read in it:

"We Americans, though not so reserved in talk as our English brothers, are less respectful to conversational amenities; and both of us are far behind the French in the gracious art of verbal expression. Not only is the spoken English of the cultured Irish the most cosmopolitan and best modulated of any English in the world, but the conversation of cultivated Irishmen more adequately approaches the perfection of the French."

"It is as illuminating to study the best models in human intercourse as to study the best models in literature, or painting, or any other art. One of the distinct elements in French conversation is that it is invariably kept general; and by general I mean including in the talk all the conversational group as opposed to tete-a-tete dialogue."

"Good talk between two is no doubt a duet of exquisite sympathy, but general and tete-a-tete conversation have both their place and occasion. At a dinner table in France private chats are very quickly dispelled by some thoughtful moderator. Dinner guests who devote themselves to each other alone are not tolerated by the French hostess as by the English and Americans. Because tete-a-tete conversation is considered good form so generally among English speaking peoples, I have in other essays adapted my comments on this subject to our customs; but talk which is distributed among several who conform to the courtesies and laws of good conversation is the best kind of talk. In general talk every one ought to have a voice. It is the undue humility of some and the arrogance and polemical tendency of others that prevent good general conversation. People have only to begin with three axioms: the first, that everybody is entitled, and often bound, to form his own opinion; second, that everybody is equally entitled to express that opinion; and third, that everybody's opinion is entitled to a hearing and to consideration, not only on the ground of courtesy, but because any opinion honestly and independently formed is worth something and contributes to the discussion."

"At large formal dinners, on the order of banquets, it would be impossible for all guests to include a host or hostess in their conversational groups from any and every part of the table; only those guests seated near them can do this. But at small, informal dinners all guests should, whenever possible, consider it their duty to direct much of their conversation to their host and hostess. I have seen guests at small dinners of no more than six or eight covers go through the various courses of a three hours' dining, ignoring their host and hostess in the entire table talk, while conversing volubly with others. There is something more due a host and hostess than mere greetings on entering and leave-takings on departing. If the dinner party is so large that all guests cannot show them at the table the attention due them, the delicate ones can at least seek an opportunity in the drawing-room, after guests have left the dining-room, to pay their host and hostess the proper courtesy. Hosts should never be made to feel that it is to their cook they owe their distinction, and to their table alone that guests pay their attention."

GOSSIP CALLED DELIGHTFUL THING.

How one would like to quote in full a vigorous chapter on "Gossip," in which it is proven that "gossip" is the most delightful thing in the world, because it is intimately connected with human interest, and because one must learn to make a great difference, indeed, between gossip—just a harmless interest in one's neighbor and scandal. And one finds a world of advice in admirable closing paragraphs:

MISS HAZEL DAY, A LOCAL BRIDE-ELECT.

"A hospitable host and hostess will not absorb the conversation at their table. They will render the gracious service of furnishing a background for the cleverness of others, rather than display unsparingly their own brilliancy. Indeed, a man or woman, does not have to be brilliant or intellectual to succeed in this most gracious of social arts. The host or hostess who possesses sympathy and tact will surpass in dinner giving the most brilliant person in the world who selfishly monopolizes conversation at his own table. If guests cannot go away from a dinner table feeling better pleased with themselves, that campaign of hospitality has been a failure. When the satisfaction on their faces betrays the subtle art of the host and hostess in having convinced all their guests that they have made themselves interesting, then the acme of hospitality has been achieved."

"An ideal dinner party," says a famous London hostess, "resembles nothing so much as a masterpiece of the jeweler's art. In the center of which some crystalline gem in the form of a sparkling and sympathetic hostess rounds whom the guests are arranged in an effective setting. To be signally successful at dinner giving, care to make the talk interesting is as necessary as care in the preparation of viands. Really successful hosts and hostesses take as much precaution against fatalities in conversation as against those which offend the palate. While attending carefully to the polishing of the crystal and to the preparation of the menu which will make their table a delight, they remember that the intellect of their guests must be satisfied no less than their eyes and their stomachs."

THANKSGIVING DINNERS KEEP SOCIETY BUSY.

A discussion on dinner giving is very appropriate just now as we begin the holiday season with our Thanksgiving dinners.

The note of preparation is in the air; already the red holly berries begin to make cheerful pictures on the street and in the florist windows. A gay holiday season sentiment is in the air.

The old family homes make the center for the Thanksgiving gatherings. Children and grandchildren go to the old family homes for this great gathering of the year.

In many of our leading homes relatives come from a distance, and the young people at school return for the Thanksgiving holidays.

At Arbor Villa Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Smith plan to entertain a large family gathering, and the young girls on Cottage Hill are always their special care.

Mrs. Frank C. Havens is an ideal dinner hostess, with a charm of manner that makes her guests most welcome; and her dinners are very carefully planned. A Thanksgiving dinner at Willowood includes many families, among them the Frank Havens, the Wickham Havens, the Edward Enges, the Storlins, the Jacksons, the Harry Maxwells, and besides the relatives, Mrs. Havens always finds room for friends.

Mrs. Rogers always has with her at Highlands for Thanksgiving the Mark Requa, the Oscar Longa, Mrs. A. N. Towne and Mr. and Mrs. Worden.

Mrs. Thomas Crellin's home is the center of a delightful Thanksgiving gathering each year, and there will be, with Mrs. Crellin the Robert Fitzgeralds and their children, and Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Everett.

Mrs. W. T. Veitch is among the very happiest of holiday hostesses, for her joy is in giving pleasure to others, and around her Thanksgiving board are gathered each year members of her family and their friends. And the latter are made happy in an atmosphere of all-abounding hospitality.

One hears of the wonderful work Mrs. Veitch did in our late anti-an- nexation crusade. She gave a large tea in her Cloverdale home, "River- view," and invited many prominent women of the neighborhood, and personally instructed them in the different phases of the great question. It was largely through her influence that Sonoma county came to our side.

So one hopes all the more heartily that her Thanksgiving with her family here may hold more than the usual degree of happiness.

The William Lettis Olivers and the R. G. Browns always keep Thanksgiving and Christmas holidays together, and in Mrs. Remi Chabot's home there is always a family reunion.

At the Highlands Mrs. Hearst has always a large reunion of friends, and dinner served in that magnificent dining-room makes a truly wonderful picture.

The family reunions will be many, and Thanksgiving Day bids fair to be the brightest of holidays this year.

EBELL CLUB AFTERNOON SUCCESSFUL AFFAIR.

Children are so very clever these days that their friends rarely send a regret when they are invited to a special afternoon. And the Ebell Club has the credit of scoring one afternoon of unusual excellence, one in which wit and humor were combined in a most charming fashion, under the direction of Miss Julia Colby, who is the leader of the Shakespeare section.

The section entertained on Tuesday and it was, indeed, an afternoon long to be remembered, one full of merriment, the latter called out by the exceedingly clever "masque" planned by Miss Colby.

The latter is one of the finest dramatic critics around the bay, and she is an exceedingly able interpreter of Shakespeare. The literary world is giving much attention to the dance in these later days, but Miss Colby, months ago, led the way.

The masque on Tuesday at the Ebell Club was wonderfully well given. Miss Colby read the lines, which were full of wit and humor, many of them making immensely clever parodies on the living issues of today. And as Miss Colby read the curtain was raised, showing a Shakespearean Yorker and Mrs. A. L. Adams, most correctly gowned in the dress of that day. They wore high black hats coming to a point, as in Mother Goose pictures, and their gowns were of broadened effects, in pauper style, Mrs. Yorker being in yellow and Mrs. Adams in turquoise blue. Their acting was simply perfect, as together they are discussing Falstaff's perjury and planning for his downfall.

And Falstaff, coming in, is promptly bundled into the big clothes-basket, and the curtain goes down as he is being dragged from the stage to be thrown into the river.

Mrs. Florence Nusbaumer as Cleopatra was the central figure of a tableau from Antony and Cleopatra, and she was gorgeously arrayed. She was waiting for her barge, not to take her up the Nile, but through the Panama canal. The chorus was made up of Yama Yama girls, who danced and sang, and an adorable Puck, all in pink, added to the charm of the mid-summer night scene. The most enchanting Jester romped and frolicked about the stage, as merry a Jester as could have been found in Shakespeare's own day.

Lady Macbeth walked in her sleep, and the witches three uttered horrible prophecies over the cauldron, and the kings came in from Birnam woods, and Miss Colby announced that the kings would beat the ace.

The singing of the Yama Yama girls was immensely amusing, one of the choruses being "Good Night, Ladies, We're Going to Leave You Now," as Falstaff was being dragged from the stage.

The statue in the Winter's Tale was lovely, and the pretty young girl posed to the music of "Every Little Movement Has a Meaning of Its Own."

One of the most charming scenes was from Hamlet, with pretty Miss

MANY BENEFACTIONS TO ABSORB ATTENTION.

Many are the philanthropic activities that absorb our attention this season, prominent among them "Jappyland," the "Red Cross Sale of Seals," the Central Kindergarten card party and "The Doll Show." In each of them so many prominent families are interested that they are events of a great degree of interest.

One hears wonderful stories of the brilliant tableaux that make up "Jappyland." The leader in charge is immensely clever and one hears that the choruses are made up of charming girls, and their singing is delightful. It is immensely colorful, and as all the young people have scores of friends, one can see an artistic as well as a financial success looming large on the horizon.

The patronesses for the "Jappyland" performances have been announced this week, and one hears they are much interested in the success of the young people. The patronesses are:

SOCIETY AIDS IN SALE OF STAMPS.

A wonderful experiment is being tried this year in the sale of the Red Cross Christmas seals, with Mrs. Mark L. Requa at the head of the work. It is amazing the great sympathy there is in the work, and the helpful and efficient service that is everywhere bestowed in aid of the cause.

And one reason for this is that it is everybody's concern—everybody's care—and so all classes of people are lined up in a great spirit of comradeship, and the progress made in just a few days is quite wonderful. We need to be afraid of mentioning this dread disease in the old days; we ran away from it, and a terror of it lay hidden in a dark background.

But science has made us brave, and with a cheerful optimism and with a true courage we push the oncoming steadily back over the borderline, and before long he will be no more; we shall have won out in our great game.

Cardinal Farley of New York recently sent his check to promote this work, saying it was the great work of our time, and would be successful. President Taft is the national chairman, so it represents one of the leading societies of our country. And history will report its work as one of the great things of modern days, attempted and achieved.

So come, one and all, and buy our Red Cross Christmas seals.

Buy one for just one cent, or buy hundreds—but buy them just the same.

And come to the Ebell Hall on Sunday, December 1, at four o'clock, and hear Dr. Philip Kling Brown and Judge-elect Donahue and other speakers, and take heart of grace and hope and a cheerful optimism, and hear how you individually can help to defend our freedoms. There will be no collection at the spirit of Christmas meeting; it is just to begin in an understanding manner a series of days which ought to represent a magnificent work. We want to stand our ground as they are doing in other large cities, and we must do it by a hearty co-operation and good comradeship in a great cause, which makes for true success.

Mrs. Mark Requa has planned her work on a large scale. It includes everyone who wants to be helpful, and so headquarters have been opened upstairs in the Thayer block, in the same building as the Women's Exchange. Any woman who can make time for the cause will be welcome at the headquarters and work will be given her to do.

Mrs. Mark Requa has announced her executive committee as follows: Mrs. Harry East Miller, Miss Anna Brown, Miss Mollie Connors.

Assignments have been made for a general sale of stamps, which will begin December 14.

Mrs. Harry East Miller will have charge of the large stores, and among tableau. The audience was asked to write from what play each tableau was taken, and nine members had the correct results.

The tableaux were supposed to be given before Queen Elizabeth, who was impersonated by Mrs. Posey, president of the club. She made a most effective Queen Elizabeth, in a red wig, with a queenly crown and a wonderful gown, with a great trailing cloak of royal purple velvet. She was a very fascinating queen, indeed, and as one of a most attractive and charming group of the year and many compliments have been showered upon Miss Colby for its great success. There is such a general demand for a repetition of the clever masque that it will no doubt be given again sometime this winter.

Among the many guests of the afternoon were:

Mrs. Charles Leonard
Mrs. William Morris
Mrs. J. R. Simpson

Mrs. C. W. Klose

Alison Stone as Ophelia. She was exceedingly dainty and sang her numbers very beautifully.

Following the program tea was served in the lower hall, and the scene was most attractive, with so many of the members in costume. One saw the ghost in Hamlet and Shylock sociably eating sandwiches together, and the Yama Yama girls flitted about the hall serving their friends.

her assignments are the following: For Taff's store, Mrs. Leon Clark (Viva Nicholson); for Abrahamson's, Mrs. William Thornton White; for Hale's, Miss Violet Whitney; for Capwell's, Mrs. H. C. Capwell, and for Kahn's, Mrs. Sol Kahn. Each of these captains is asking a group of friends to aid her in her work.

Mrs. Wickham Havens, who has charge of the banks, will be assisted by Mrs. Victor Metcalf, Mrs. Arthur Tashira, Mrs. Edward Engs and others. Each of them will also ask their friends to assist them in the work.

The Oakland Club will have charge of the postoffice, and the Ebell Club, Home Club and Civic Club will lend their aid at important posts. Mrs. Walter Seaver is chairman of the work at Berkeley, and she is organizing it in a very effective and able fashion.

Most valuable work is being done in Piedmont by Mrs. Granville Abbott and Mrs. Clinton Worden, and the clubs throughout the county bid fair to take an active part in the good work.

Alameda has been organized this week, with popular Miss Ruth Tisdale at the head of affairs. She will have as assistants the young girls of the Alta Sigma Club of Alameda, and they are hoping for a very successful experiment over there.

There will be a meeting on Monday morning, when further plans will be outlined for the success of the Christ-peace sale of seals.

PICTURES IN THE MIDDLE.

Mrs. George Friend, whose picture is in the Medier this evening, is a Berkeley society matron, who was hostess on Thursday at bridge at her home in Thousand Oaks, Berkeley.

Miss Hester Hyde is at present attending the University of California, where she has many friends. She recently returned from a trip to Solano county.

Miss Hazel Dey is a bride-elect who has been given a round of social gayeties by her friends here, with whom she is very popular.

LADIES' RELIEF SOCIETY TO HOLD DONATION DAY.

The Ladies' Relief Society will hold a donation day on Tuesday, November 26, 1912, at 1431 Broadway, from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m.

It is intended to make this an annual event, in which the society asks your interest and hearty co-operation.

And, of course, before we begin to enjoy our own Thanksgiving, we will most gladly remember to provide for the dear old ladies and the sweet little children of the "home."

CARD PARTIES ARE POPULAR THESE DAYS.

Card parties are very much the order of the hour and recent ones have been very successful. Among the hostesses of the week have been Mrs. William Ebe, Mrs. George Friend and Mrs. George F. Gross. Mrs. Ebe entertained at the Country Club and the decorations of the day were exceedingly effective and the prizes very handsome.

Mrs. George Friend has a most attractive home in "Thousand Oaks" and her friends were made very welcome there on Thursday. The home was a fine study in holiday decoration, and Mrs. Friend was assisted in receiving her guests by her mother, Mrs. Spring, and by her sisters, Mrs. Robert Newell and Mrs. Murdock. Mrs. Friend wore a very artistic gown in pink and blue chiffon, the Parisian color scheme which is so dainty.

Among the guests were:

Mrs. Peter Munder, Mrs. Frank Watson, Mrs. William Cooper, Mrs. Leticia Maxwell, Mrs. George Wilhelm, Mrs. Burr Eastwood, Mrs. Simpson, Mrs. William Ebe, Mrs. John F. Conner, Mrs. Henry Rosenfeld, Mrs. Wickham Havens, Mrs. A. A. Long, Mrs. George de Galla, Mrs. Carrie Nicholson, Mrs. Edward Engs, Mrs. Frank K. Mott, Miss Euseman.

MRS. GEORGE GROSS CHARMING HOSTESS.

Mrs. George Gross was the hostess yesterday afternoon at one of the most delightful card parties of the early season, receiving her guests in her home on Grand avenue.

The first notes of the holiday time were in tones of red and were carried out in lovely American Beauty roses and in red carnations.

Mrs. Gross was assisted in receiving her guests by her sister, Mrs. J. Loran Pease, and both wore very beautiful gowns, among the most artistic seen here this season.

Mrs. Gross wore a gown in deep tones of purple with a lovely overdress completely covered in steel embroidery.

Mrs. Pease's gown was in turquoise tones with Oriental trimming. She looked exceedingly well.

Both Mrs. Gross and Mrs. Pease are charming hostesses, wholehearted and generous, and one is sure of a truly enjoyable time in their homes. The prizes were exceedingly artistic and a holiday joy to those who received them. They were dainty tapestry boxes in lovely tones of pink and blue and lavender, containing the inscription: "Answer your letters," and there were all the materials for your penmanship.

The card party was one of the most successful of the winter and was greatly enjoyed by the guests. Among the guests of the afternoon, who were very beautifully gowned, were:

Mrs. George de Galla, Mrs. Frances Thomas, Mrs. Edward Walsh, Mrs. Frederick Morse, Mrs. Frederick Stalp, Mrs. Charles Lovell, Mrs. Carl Bachelder, Mrs. Mollie Conner, Mrs. John F. Conner, Mrs. A. A. Long, Mrs. Challen Parker, Mrs. Carrie Nicholson, Mrs. John F. Conner, Mrs. Louise Alinger, Mrs. Edith Beck, Mrs. Maxwell Tait, Mrs. Carter, Mrs. Frank Mott, Mrs. Henry Rosenfeld.

WHITE HOUSE BRIDE WILL BE NO. 13

Wilson's Daughters "Bachelor Maids" Will Have to Take Chance.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—The advent of a presidential household with three marriageable daughters, a new Washington society to speculation as to the possibility of one or more White House weddings during the Wilson administration.

Although the Wilson sisters are known as "bachelor maids," there is even a tendency toward romance in the lives of the younger occupants of the historic mansion, therefore the possibility that one or more of the Wilson girls will bring about a change of title.

In connection with such possibility, a deliver into the romance of the mansion has called attention to the old thirteen superstition by discovering that the next White House bride will be the thirteenth, Alice Roosevelt, the last White House bride, was the twelfth. The one before that was Frances Folsom, who became Mrs. Grover Cleveland.

Emily Platt, a niece of President Hayes was married in the White House during her uncle's administration to Gen. Russell H. H. Platt. The wedding of Nellie Grant to Seward was one of the most famous of White House weddings. Still going backward, there was the marriage of Elizabeth Tyler, daughter of President Tyler, to William Waller, Virginia, in 1848.

During President Jackson's administration, three weddings took place in the White House, those of Della Lewis of Nashville and Alphonse Pageot, a member of the French legation; Mary Estlin, a niece of Mrs. Jackson, and Lucien B. Polk and Emily Martin, a relative of the President and Lewis Randolph.

John Quincy Adams' son, John Quincy, was married in the Blue Room to his cousin, Mary Helen, Maria Monroe, was the first President's daughter to be married in the White House.

In 1912, Anna Todd, cousin of Dolly Madison, was a Blue Room bride. The very first White House wedding was in 1811, when Mrs. Madison's younger sister, Lucy Payne Washington, widow of a nephew of George Washington, was the bride.

BANKER'S WIFE DEFIES JUDGE

Says Woman Has a Right to Change Her Mind at Any Time.

CHICAGO, Nov. 23.—Mrs. W. T. Kirby, wife of the owner of the defunct savings bank, stubbornly refused to tell her version of the disappearance of the $30,000 that wrecked the bank, when she was placed in the witness stand in the Federal court.

Although she had previously promised to tell the story, she announced she had changed her mind.

"Who caused you to change your mind?" Judge Landis demanded.

"A woman has the right to change her mind," the witness retorted.

"Answer my question," urged the court.

"Well, my counsel informed me that I did not have to answer questions that would 'incriminate you' broke in the Assistant District Attorney.

"I did not do that."

The banker-doctor's wife was equally excited when asked to explain what had become of $20,000 of the bank's funds that had been placed in her hands a few days before the institution suspended business.

"I have had troubles enough to bear," she replied.

"I will not enter into all these affairs. My husband knows everything, ask him. I have three small children at home."

Finally Judge Landis became impatient, and ordered the woman held as a witness under bonds of $20,000 pending the outcome of the court's investigation into the tangled affairs of the bank.

Dr. Kirby, his face covered with a week's growth of beard, unkept and hysterical, sprawled in a chair within the court enclosure.

DOG SAVES BABY GIRL FROM DEATH

Wanders Through the Woods for Four Days Before Rescued.

CAMBRIDGTON, N. B., Nov. 23.—Almost dead from hunger and exposure, a 7-year-old daughter of Ernest Burpee, of St. Andre, a village five miles from Moncton, was found after she had passed four days in the woods. The child, strayed when returning from a word lot, where she had taken food to her father, a chopper, and wandered miles through thick woods.

Hundreds of persons searched the forest unsuccessfully, and the mayor of Cambridgton offered a reward. On the fourth morning a dog owned by John Burpee, a traveling salesman, followed the child into the woods. The dog, which was a big tree and barked. Leaving a trail, the trunk was the completed form of the lost girl. The child was conscious, but her hands and feet were swollen, and she was in a pitiable condition. She was probably recovered.

The girl said the dog found her the day before, but she was too weak to follow him.

TAFT TO DECLINE CARNEGIE PENSION

Law Office to Call President Soon After March 4, 1913.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—President Taft has no intention of accepting Andrew Carnegie's pension for former Presidents. While the President refused to discuss the matter yesterday for publication it is known that he does not care to become a pensioner of the plan already having made all preparations for the establishment of a good law practice which he expects will bring him in sufficient money for the support of himself and his family.

The general belief among those well informed in Washington is that Carnegie's plan was designed mainly to bring sharply to the attention of the public the neglect of the United States government in the matter of providing pensions for former Presidents.

WANTS WOMEN TO AID GOVERNMENT

Clergymen Sees Need for the Regeneration of United States.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 22.—The need of moral regeneration in our government and the part women will play in bringing this regeneration about when they can vote were pointed out by the Rev. James G. Thompson, pastor of the National Sundry Convention, Rev. Mythen's subject was "The Moral Responsibility of the Ballot."

"We are confronted," said Rev. Mythen, by the spectacle of corruption in government that runs riotously from the humble voting precincts to an obscure Ohio county until its trail ends in the very Senate chamber. We have read of wholesale prosecutions for graft in many of the largest cities of the land."

FINDS WIFE AFTER 20 YEARS' SEARCH

Former Mate of Miner Proves to Be the Widow of Another.

The wife was formerly Miss Nellie Powell of San Francisco. She married Thompson in that city June 6, 1890. They moved to Portland, Ore., where they lived two years.

Thompson was unable to get work and Mrs. Thompson moved to a small town near Portland where she visited with relatives for several weeks. Thompson finally decided to go to another city to seek employment. He left a note in the house stating his intentions and went to San Francisco.
